U.S. SENATE CUTS DOWN HOUSE TARIFF LIST

Seven Candidates Enter Field For Civic Election

Trustee Alex Peden Denies Aspirations for Mayoralty Office; Mayor Anson's Return by Acclamation Almost Certain; Aldermen Marchant and Dewar to Seek Re-election and All Others Retiring Will Undoubtedly Be in Field.

To Imie Demands Treaty

B.C. Wants Salmon Pact Ratified, He Tells Premier King

$30,000,000 Industry at Stake, He Says; Other Problems Discussed

The Province of British Columbia wants the salmon treaty ratified, Premier Toimie stated today after his conference with Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

"I asked Mr. King about it and he said he would bring it up again next session," Dr. Toimie said. "The people connected with the canneries think this treaty will regulate the catch so as to save the industry. A start cannot be made too soon. This Province is intensely interested for there is a $30,000,000 industry at stake."

Premier Toimie did not fear that it would give United States any rights in respect to Canadian rivers, which would be disadvantageous.

"We have not lost anything because we join with the United States in the International Joint Commission governing boundary rivers," he said. "Canadians are able to handle their own."

LACK OF OTTAWA HOUSE ANNOYS U.S. MINISTER

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—"The reason for my resignation I have already given. I am naturally also disappointed that the Government has not decided as yet to acquire the necessary premises here."

This was the reply of William Phillips, United States Minister to Canada, today when questioned in respect to a published statement from Washington that the refusal of the United States Government to provide its representative with a house in Ottawa had been the cause of some annoyance to Mr. Phillips.

INQUIRY IN U.S. COTTON MARKET

Washington, Nov. 14.—Investigation by the Senate agricultural committee of speculative activities on the New York, Chicago and New Orleans cotton exchanges, was ordered today by the Senate.

Radio Report Awaited From McAlpine Party

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—More than two days of unexplained silence surrounds the latest flight by the McAlpine party and its rescuers, and realization that the hazardous journey over the frozen barren lands to the Hudson Bay Railway at The Pas must be taken in easy stages was expressed by rescue officials here.

No word has been received from the four plane patrols since Tuesday morning, when a start was to have been made from Bathurst Inlet and Burnside River, on the northern coast of Canada, for Fort Resolution, 600 miles southwest on Great Slave Lake.

It was believed that for some reason the party had been delayed at Fort Resolution, on McLeod Bay, Great Slave Lake, 200 miles north of Resolution. There is no radio station at Resolution and the plane must wait until they arrive at Resolution to flash a report to Winnipeg.

Seven candidates were definitely in the field for civic office today, when five others from whom no definite announcement has yet come are expected to follow suit shortly.

A report circulated in the city today to the effect that Trustee Alex Peden might contest the mayoralty against Mayor Anson, was denied by Mr. Peden. Mr. Peden, a passenger on the St. Princess Adelaide from Vancouver to Victoria today, was reached by wireless and radioed that he was "not running for mayor."

The return of Mayor Anson by acclamation is regarded practically as a certainty now.

Aldermen William Marchant, R. A. C. Dewar and John Harvey will seek a return to the City Council, on terms expiring this year, they each stated this morning.

Trustees J. S. McMillan and A. C. Fife have announced their intention of being candidates at the election to be held on December 12.

Ex-alderman J. A. Shanks and P. E. George are also in the field, the former for the council and the latter for the school board.

Alderman J. L. Mars, Alderman John Worthington, Trustee J. L. Beckwith and Commissioner William White, approached today, said that they had announced their intention to make a run for it. It is almost a certainty that they will seek re-election.

City elections will go to the polls to fill eleven vacancies, unless the field is cut down by acclamation in any of the four divisions of the administration. A mayor, five aldermen, four trustees and a police commissioner are to be chosen. Nominations will be registered on November 15.

COMMISSION DEALS WITH CAR PARKING

Several New Non-parking Areas Are Approved By Police Board

New parking regulations in various sections of the downtown area of the city were approved by the police commissioners this morning for submission to the City Council.

Prohibition of parking in three areas to facilitate the movement of traffic at bad corners was recommended by Chief of Police John Fry and received the approval of the commission. The areas in question were: West side of Blanchard Street for a distance of sixty feet north of View Street; east side of Government for a distance of seventy feet south of Yates; and east side of Government Street for a distance of seventy feet south of Fort.

The Chief also recommended that the section in the by-law prohibiting parking on the east side of Douglas for forty feet south of Broughton Street be deleted and this was approved.

Government House Group Welcomes Premier

SEARCH FOR PREMIER KING GOES TO VANCOUVER FOR BIG TRADE DINNER

He Will Also Speak There Friday Night, With His Address Being Broadcast by Radio Over Southern Part of Province; Trip Over Kettle Valley Is Cancelled so as to Expedite His Return to Ottawa.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Premier of Canada, and his party concluded their two-day stay here this afternoon when they left on the 2 o'clock boat for Vancouver.

On the Premier's arrival there, he will be met by officials of the Vancouver Board of Trade and escorted to the Board of Trade dinner to be given in his honor at the Hotel Vancouver. He will speak at this dinner and will also speak in Vancouver Friday night. His address to-morrow night will be broadcast over radio station C.N.R.V. This will be his second public address in British Columbia, the other at Prince Rupert having covered the northern part of the Province.

Before leaving, the Premier said that he was forced to cancel his scheduled trip over the Kettle Valley lines. The change has been made to give him more time at Calgary, and get back to Ottawa sooner, because of the death of Hon. J. A. Robb. He will leave Vancouver on No. 4 Canadian Pacific train at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

THE PREMIER'S CAMPAIGN.
The Premier spent this morning quietly at Government House. Just before leaving for the boat he received the following telegram from Rt. Hon. Ramsey MacDonald, Prime Minister of Great Britain, referring to the death of Hon. J. A. Robb:

"I am greatly distressed by the heavy loss you have sustained and send you my sympathy and friendship in which Thomas joins."

GENERAL MOTORS GIVE DIVIDEND

New York, Nov. 14.—Directors of the General Motors Corporation today declared a thirty-cent extra cash dividend on the common stock, as they did in the previous quarter, in addition to the regular payment of seventy-five cents. The extra is payable January 2, and the regular dividend, on December 12, both to stock of record November 23.

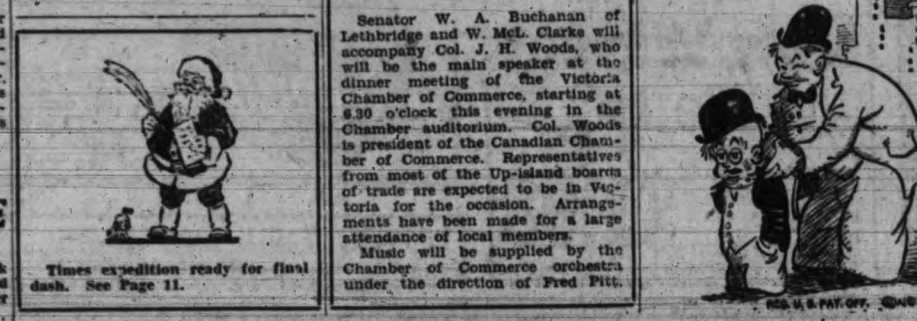

The directors also declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 on the 6 per cent debenture stock, $1.50 on the 6 per cent preferred and $1.75 on the 7 per cent preferred, all of which are payable February 1 to stockholders of record January 6.

NEW SCHOOL AT KEATING IS PROPOSED

Saanich Trustees Add Fifth Unit to Building Programme
Accommodation Problem Involves $225,000, Trustees Estimate

Deciding to call for tenders for a four-roomed frame high school building at Keating, the Saanich School Board last night added a fifth unit to its programme of expansion of the Saanich school system. The addition to the building scheme was warmly advocated by Trustee J. L. Brooks, who believed that the northern wards were entitled to better school facilities urgently required.

Plans already well advanced call for a new four-roomed school in Ward Two, addition of two or four rooms each to Cloverdale and Tillicum schools, and provision of an auditorium and more classrooms at Tolmie High School.

SOARING COSTS.
"We have jumped from $150,000 to $225,000 in our proposed development of the Saanich school system. If we do not look out we are going to be too high in the cost of our proposals to serve all districts," Trustee Jeune warned, his estimate being unchanged.

Trustee Fyvie recalled that the board had originally contemplated new buildings costing $75,000. "But I very soon forgot all about that figure," he admitted.

MANY KILLED IN BATTLE IN CENTRAL CHINA

Nationalist Troops Fighting Rebels; Dispatches Are Censored

Shanghai, Nov. 14.—The battle of Tengfeng between Nationalist Government troops and the rebellious Kuomintang, or "People's Army," has begun and the fighting is most severe, according to dispatches received here today from Honan province.

Hankow messages said many thousands of wounded Nationalist soldiers had arrived from the front, with a like number of Kuomintang prisoners.

HEAVIEST FIGHTING.
These developments were taken to indicate the present hostilities are the most severe of this year. Military censors are attempting to block all press dispatches, which explains the lack of details.

Chinese press dispatches from Hankow asserted the Kuomintang rebels had lost 40,000 killed during the last week and the Nationalists 25,000.

Japanese dispatches also from Hankow said the rebel troops had occupied Luohokow, in northwestern Hupeh province, causing the Nationalist forces to begin a general retreat down the Han River.

The Nationalists were preparing to defend the city of Siangyang against the advancing Kuomintang troops.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The Senate today approved a Republican committee amendment to the tariff bill to retain maple and birch lumber, except flooring, on the free list. The House bill provided for a duty of fifteen per cent.

The second chamber, while continuing its work on the tariff measure today, overrode the views of its two party leaders and refused by a vote of fifty-one to thirty-four to take a week's recess before the regular session of Congress begins December 2.

The decision on maple and birch lumber today came after the discussion yesterday, when the decisions of chief interest to the people of British Columbia were for the keeping of shingles on the free list, and elimination of the present tariff of one dollar a thousand feet board measurement on logs of fir, spruce and western hemlock, and the retention of cedar lumber on the free list, the House having proposed a twenty-five per cent duty, as it did for shingles.

The Senate also, without a record vote, eliminated the proposed higher duty on cedar.

CHAMBER IS UNITING DOMINION

Just, have been visited in the course of the tour and for to-night's meeting, invitations have been sent to all the boards of trade of Vancouver Island.

Colonel Woods, who is managing director of the Calgary Herald, is president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and referred to the meeting of the Maritime Boards of Trade at St. John, N.B., which he attended three weeks ago.

"There were 200 delegates and fifty boards of trade represented," he said, "and I am glad to have an opportunity of telling the people in Western Canada, which we regard as a very progressive part of the Dominion, that the people of the Maritimes have never been in such good shape commercially, nor in a more progressive state of mind than they are to-day."

The trade of the Maritimes has increased rapidly and there was an increase of 24 per cent in freight traffic in the last year.

COMMISSION HELPED
"The Duncan Commission has helped considerably in a material way and has had the psychological effect of making them feel, perhaps for the first time, they are really a part of the Dominion of Canada, and the balance is as interested in them as we are in one another."

"The objects of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce are the consolidation of business, thought on subjects of interest to Canada as a whole, so that as a united body representing the whole of Canada it can help the different parts of Canada solve their individual problems."

"It was the action of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce which led to the Duncan Commission which investigated conditions in the Maritimes."

OUTLET FROM PEACE
"Another of the subjects of the Chamber is to assist as rapidly as good business sense will permit the securing of an outlet from the Peace River to the Pacific Coast."

"Until the formation of the Canadian Chamber there was no concrete voice of expression. Canadian business wanted harmony but had nothing to bring it about. The recent convention at Edmonton and Calgary was a striking demonstration that this had been attained. More than fifty boards of trade were represented and between 500 and 600 delegates attended. The next convention will be in Toronto in 1930, and I believe it will be the finest gathering representing Canadian agriculture, finance and commerce ever held in the Dominion."

"Notwithstanding the transient effect of the stock market slump," Colonel Woods proceeded talking of trade generally. "I have found finance and business in Canada from New Brunswick to British Columbia sound. The delay in marketing the midwest wheat crop should prove beneficial to the farmers. They are going ahead and preparing more land for crops next year."

"It will not be long before our transient troubles are over and Canada will be going ahead so quickly and strongly that it will require our best efforts to keep pace with our opportunities."

COX PAPERS PLAYING DOWN STOCK NEWS

Time For Panic Discussion to End, Says Ex-Governor of Ohio

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 14.—Ex-Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, owner of a group of newspapers in the northern and southern United States, has issued orders to his publications to take all stock market news off the first pages. Asked why he did it, he said:

"The purpose is obvious. The buying of stocks in the market, or if you want to call it, speculation, is a minor and incidental thing in the life of the United States. The emphasis we have given it makes it appear more people are interested than in our normal pursuits. The inevitable reaction came, it is nearly, if not quite, over, and yet all of our newspapers are filling the public mind with the idea of disaster. This can easily develop a psychological condition harmful to the general interest."

SEES DISTINCTION
"There is a distinction between journalistic enterprise and sensationalism, without regard to consequences, of the fact that out of a dramatic event. The operations of the stock market should be set back in their proper department, but, of course, without suppression of factor development. The great masses of the people who are now involved can pursue, uninterrupted, their course in commerce. Otherwise, the impression will grow that we are on the verge of a serious industrial depression. What is not in any sense justified by fundamental conditions now being created by widespread timidity or fear."

NEWSPAPERS GREAT POWER
"The impression of the country in this active age are on a very sensitive centre, and the newspapers are in a position to render great benefit or create serious injury."

"My thought as a publisher was to help our public forget the panic, which has been in no small degree mental, with the holders of securities, and let the country go to work. For more than a year the general efficiency of business has been below par because of a speculative obsession."

Mr. Cox was Democratic candidate in the United States presidential election of 1929.

William F. Kenny, wealthy contractor, who a year ago purchased a one-fifth interest in the club.

Mr. Bondy said accountants found the books in order when Mr. Kenny purchased his stock.

Most of the payments, the treasurer added, represented returns to the club president of sums he had advanced the ball club without interest.

Bondy said Stoneham would not sell his holdings nor buy minority interests at exorbitant figures.

RADIO REPORT AWAITED FROM McALPINE PARTY

MESSAGE AWAITED

Some time today W. L. Brintnell, managing director of the Western Canada Airways, expected a message here from Captain G. S. Blanchet, in charge of the four planes carrying Colonel C.

D. H. McAlpine and his seven rescued companions.

At a loss to explain the delay, Mr. Brintnell felt confident he would receive a report before nightfall. Plane trouble or poor flying conditions may have decided Captain Blanchet to remain at Reliance until the 300-mile hop to Resolution could be undertaken with apparent safety, he commented.

LETHBRIDGE

PROSPERING IN ITS HISTORY, SAYS W. A. BUCHANAN

Brightest Period in Its History, Says W. A. Buchanan

Publisher of Daily Herald Here With Canadian Chamber Party

The city of Lethbridge is enjoying more prosperity at the present time than at any period of its history, according to Senator W. A. Buchanan of that city, publisher of the Lethbridge Daily Herald, who is in Victoria to-day with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce visitors.

"There is a shortage of homes in Lethbridge and business is expanding on the foundation of agriculture," said Senator Buchanan. The city is in the big crop zone of the western district served by the Lethbridge division of the C.P.R. It will ship 37,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, the Senator said, and pointed out that it will grade one, two and three.

The prospects for the next crop are also bright. There is good fall moisture to encourage farmers to put greater areas in crop and the introduction of the tractor and combine truck eliminate labor, also encourages them to this end. Four men are now able to do the work for which twenty-five were formerly needed, and the Senator expected to soon see the day when the harvest excursions from the coast and the west each year would be a thing of the past. Labor saving devices are creating a condition where soon it will be possible to do all the work with local labor.

The sugar beet industry is advancing rapidly, said Senator Buchanan. The crop this year will run to 60,000 tons, and it is estimated the sugar output at the factory at Raymond will run to 170,000 bags. The beets are grown on irrigated land and the industry has reached this stage in only three years. It is impossible to supply the demands of Alberta alone. Just before the Senator left more acreage was being planted to beets, sufficient to warrant the establishment of another factory.

DRIVERS SEEK SETTLEMENT OF HOLIDAY ISSUE

Brotherhood Asks Opinion of Police Commission on Chauffeurs' Rights

Maintaining that the early closing by-law as applied to drivers in retail business was not being properly enforced, the local branch of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stevedores and Helpers of America, have communicated with the police commission through the secretary, C. N. Curtis.

In a session of the board considered a communication from Mr. Curtis in which it was pointed out that there was a difference of opinion as to whether the regulation applied to the drivers. In many cases drivers were entrusted with C.O.D. delivery orders on Wednesdays and as such were in the same status as office employees and should therefore be entitled to the statutory holiday.

The opinion of the commission in this regard was asked, it being stated that if the law was not clear on the point steps would be taken to have the matter placed before the Legislature.

Chief of Police John Fry said as far as the half-holiday act was concerned, it was a Government question. "In the opinion of the city prosecutor, the law was not absolutely clear on the matter, and a legal fight would be necessary to determine the point."

The board decided to have a written opinion on the matter from the prosecutor before taking any action. It was thought a test case might be necessary to decide the issue.

Mr. Curtis's letter pointed out that practically all bus drivers, delivery men and chauffeurs on the island were affected by the matter.

SEARCH FOR GITTINS MADE NEAR ALBERNI

Seattle, Nov. 14.—Thomas G. Gittins has been slain," said George Cranley, attorney retained by the wife and daughter of the prominent Northwest lumberman, who has been missing for twenty-seven days.

M. G. Thomie, former state senator from Stanwood, Wash., who broke off a business deal in which he was to be Gittins's partner at the time the Seattle man disappeared, to-day said he believed Gittins was "suffering from a mental lapse and would be picked up without any recollection of what he had done with the $700 he drew from our joint account in Victoria."

HOTEL MAN'S REPORT

The manager of a Vancouver, B.C., hotel told police yesterday that Gittins had told him on October 19 that he was short of money and for that reason had to take cheaper lodgings. He said he was a good friend of Gittins. Gittins was reported last seen by him. Thomie to-day supplied a new clue to the mystery, tending to support his belief Gittins is suffering a lapse of memory when he showed police desire to return from the Seattle man dated October 29, in which the latter said he was leaving Vancouver for Victoria to meet Thomie. This was more than a week later than Thomie had arranged to meet Gittins there.

The letter was mysteriously addressed to Thomie in care of a Vancouver drygoods company.

Thomie said Gittins had known they were to meet in Victoria October 30, the day after Gittins was last seen.

PROSPERING IN ITS HISTORY, SAYS W. A. BUCHANAN

Brightest Period in Its History, Says W. A. Buchanan

Publisher of Daily Herald Here With Canadian Chamber Party

The city of Lethbridge is enjoying more prosperity at the present time than at any period of its history, according to Senator W. A. Buchanan of that city, publisher of the Lethbridge Daily Herald, who is in Victoria to-day with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce visitors.

"There is a shortage of homes in Lethbridge and business is expanding on the foundation of agriculture," said Senator Buchanan. The city is in the big crop zone of the western district served by the Lethbridge division of the C.P.R. It will ship 37,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, the Senator said, and pointed out that it will grade one, two and three.

The prospects for the next crop are also bright. There is good fall moisture to encourage farmers to put greater areas in crop and the introduction of the tractor and combine truck eliminate labor, also encourages them to this end. Four men are now able to do the work for which twenty-five were formerly needed, and the Senator expected to soon see the day when the harvest excursions from the coast and the west each year would be a thing of the past. Labor saving devices are creating a condition where soon it will be possible to do all the work with local labor.

The sugar beet industry is advancing rapidly, said Senator Buchanan. The crop this year will run to 60,000 tons, and it is estimated the sugar output at the factory at Raymond will run to 170,000 bags. The beets are grown on irrigated land and the industry has reached this stage in only three years. It is impossible to supply the demands of Alberta alone. Just before the Senator left more acreage was being planted to beets, sufficient to warrant the establishment of another factory.

Brotherhood Asks Opinion of Police Commission on Chauffeurs' Rights

Maintaining that the early closing by-law as applied to drivers in retail business was not being properly enforced, the local branch of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stevedores and Helpers of America, have communicated with the police commission through the secretary, C. N. Curtis.

In a session of the board considered a communication from Mr. Curtis in which it was pointed out that there was a difference of opinion as to whether the regulation applied to the drivers. In many cases drivers were entrusted with C.O.D. delivery orders on Wednesdays and as such were in the same status as office employees and should therefore be entitled to the statutory holiday.

The opinion of the commission in this regard was asked, it being stated that if the law was not clear on the point steps would be taken to have the matter placed before the Legislature.

CONFERENCE STAGE

The vote on shingles disposed of one of the major controversies in the tariff question. The measure still must go through another stage of revision in conference between the Senate and House.

Senators Jones, Republican, and Dill, Democrat, both of Washington, who led the drive for retention of the House duty on shingles, mustered nineteen Republicans and ten Democrats on the final rollcall, but only after they had proposed the decision be made between free shingles and a ten per cent rate.

The finance committee majority had proposed retention of shingles in the free category, but when the ten per cent duty was suggested, four of their number, including Chairman Smoot and Senators Edge, Reed and Shortridge, voted with the Washington senators.

Twenty-nine Republican and twenty Democrats supported the committee amendment.

The finance committee also won on the last proposal, it having secured elimination of the present duty, which the House retained.

THE PEACE AND RAILWAYS

DISCUSSING THE QUESTION OF AN outlet from the Peace River block to the Pacific Coast the other day, Premier King expressed the view that when circumstances warranted it, the executives of the two transcontinental railways no doubt would consider such an undertaking. In the meantime, however, the Prime Minister thinks it very desirable that the settlers already in the district should have railroad facilities to enable them to get the products of their labor to the main line. In other words, branch lines are more urgently needed than extensions of the main lines to tidewater.

The Prime Minister is on sound ground in this opinion. Beyond doubt branch lines, highways and other facilities that will enable the Peace River area to accommodate the thousands of new settlers who will go there, are the most pressing needs at this time. When that progress shall have been made, when the transportation disabilities from which a large number of settlers now suffer have been remedied—some of these industrious farmers are between sixty and seventy miles away from the railway—the question of a Coast outlet will become a live issue.

The public of the province realizes the importance of developing the great hinterland from which, in years to come, will flow new wealth in the form of products from the farm, the mine and the forest. But at this stage it would be unwise to press either of the transcontinental transportation companies to embark upon costly construction programmes prematurely. Canada already has had a bitter experience in building railways too far ahead of requirements.

HOSPITAL CHARGES

DR. WILLIAM J. MAYO HAS BEEN telling his fellow surgeons that there is too much salesmanship and too little humanity in modern hospital management. As was to be expected, his observations have aroused the interest of the medical profession in general, as well as that of a large section of the press. Dr. Mayo explains his main point in this way:

Hospitals must adopt better business methods, while less, and think more. When the hospital is built it should be with the common man in mind, and have fewer frills and showrooms, and the nurses' home should be good, but need not compete with the luxurious private home.

My own experience has been that patients in a well-planned ward, with even a moderate degree of privacy, on the whole will make a quicker recovery than in a private room with two attentive nurses who unobtrusively, in caring for the physical needs and increasing the happiness of the patient, may suggest a mental state in which the diseased condition is exaggerated sympathetically.

The hospital is a community asset, and not a profitable business, and as a community asset it must be accepted.

One hospital director criticizes Dr. Mayo for "such ruthless wrecking of the public's confidence in their only refuge in time of illness." This would appear to be a somewhat exaggerated interpretation of what after all is merely a complaint about the cost of hospital treatment.

If anything is damaging to the modern hospital system it is not lack of public confidence in it; it is the fear of not being able to meet the bill which often worries the patient and, conceivably, retards convalescence.

A discussion such as that to which Dr. Mayo's observations have given rise brings us back to the relationship of the state to the health of the citizen. It has its economic as well as its humanitarian aspects. Healthy people make for a prosperous and contented state.

Will the day come when the nationalization of health will be considered a practical proposal? Hospital charges may be high; but how many hospitals in British Columbia, for instance, are able to pay their way without substantial aid from the public treasury?

PUTTING BACK THE CLOCK

IN TOMBSTONE, ARIZ., THE OTHER day they held a great celebration they called "Hellorado Week." For seven days they brought back to Tombstone all of its old-time glory. They kept all automobiles off of the streets, giving them over to creaky old stagecoaches and swaying buckboards. They opened all of the old-time bars and dance halls, shot off revolvers at all hours of the day and night, put on a replica of a famous old feud, and arranged a repetition, bloodless but exciting, of the great Modoc stagecoach holdup of fifty years ago.

The affair drew huge crowds. Old-timers from all over the western states went to Tombstone to see it. "Some of them, grey-haired and stooped, had known Tombstone in the days when Arizona was young, bad and unrestrained. They had prospected for riches in its canyons and ledges surrounding the town; and some of them had become rich, and some of them had got nothing but experience out of it.

But they came back, impatient to see the revival of the old days—and hundreds of the present generation came with them, to see for themselves what a western mining town was like in the boom times, when about the only law was the law that could be found in the muzzle of a revolver.

The thing makes interesting reading. It is a safe bet that every one of us, reading about it, felt stirred, felt wistfully regretful, somehow, that the west of old had vanished so utterly.

But why? The old west was flaming and picturesque, but it was also bad and brutal. If it was exciting, it was also crude and harsh. It was not, in a way, civilized at all. It had the ethics of the stone age, in modern dress.

Perhaps it is partly because we are not quite as well satisfied with the present as we make believe. We know that we are "advanced"—but we cannot help feeling that life has not quite got the savor that it might have. The men of the old west may have missed some of the things that we have; but, at any rate, they really lived. Their lives had color. They were never drab, never uninteresting.

The modern west on both sides of the international line is inspiring, busy, efficient—but perhaps at times it is found a bit monotonous.

ROUTING THE HIGH TARIFFITES

FROM WASHINGTON THIS MORNING comes the news that, "continuing its slashing of tariff increases and elimination of proposed duties on free-listed commodities as carried in the House bill," the United States Senate now has removed the duty of one dollar per thousand feet board measure on logs of fir, spruce, cedar and western-hemlock; it also has approved the retention in the non-dutiable column of cedar lumber which the House of Representatives had made dutiable at twenty-five per cent ad valorem along with shingles. Shingles, of course, were put back on the free list by the Senate's vote yesterday.

Evidence continues to pile up in proof of Premier King's wise counsel to Parliament, when he predicted that the Hawley-Smoot tariff proposals would be almost unrecognizable by the time the United States Senate had finished with them, and asked that this country take no action until it had discovered just what it had to, or might have to, combat. Within the last few days the high protectionists in the Senate have been routed, first in the case of pig iron, next in the case of shingles, and to-day in the matter of logs. It now would seem to be timely for Senator Reed to pronounce for the third time that "the bill is as good as dead already."

By the way, the export of logs from this province is being carried on under the present Government, just as it was under the former one. But we remember the howls that went up to high heaven at several sessions of the last Legislature because the Government would not put a stop to it. That Government, like the present one, did not interfere with the policy because it was good business not to.

ISHBEL IS RIGHT

MISS ISHBEL MACDONALD, WITH A charm and candor all her own, has told the people of her native land that many Britons in the past have visited the United States and Canada "im-bued with a superiority complex."

The daughter of the British Prime Minister obviously is a very observant young woman and, like her father, does not hesitate to speak her mind in a way that will make her meaning quite clear. Some have come from the Old World to the New World with peculiar ideas about our civilization and our standards of living. They have almost "lectured" us before they have really seen for themselves that we neither live in wig-wags nor behave like savages. Those with normal powers of observation, of course, have gone home with an entirely different conception of life on this continent.

The superiority complex of which Miss MacDonald speaks is met with by Canadians when they go to Great Britain. Visitors from this country are introduced as having come from such and such a point in Canada, and the visible effect in some cases is about the same as if they had said they had come from the upper reaches of the Amazon. They feel as if they are being pitied, for living at what some Britons really regard as the "back of beyond."

There is nothing very surprising in this condition. The people of Britain are so absorbed by their own immediate problems—and have been for many years—that they have little time to be interested in other countries and their affairs. Their geographical situation, no doubt, has a good deal to do with this state of mind. As the years go by, however, the peoples of the world will learn more of one another. Science has provided many agencies for closer contact and communication. The radio and the aeroplane already have taken their places as educational factors in this regard.

SUPER-POWER

In view of the recommendation of the Royal Radio Commission that Canada operate only seven transmitters, but that these be of 50,000 watts, it is interesting to note a tendency in United States radio to advance into the super-power class. Nearly all stations operated on cleared channels show ambitions to use high power in order to broadcast their programmes with sufficient strength to subvert static, overcome fading and cover large areas.

That high power brings in stronger and clearer signals, making for quality reproduction at the receiving end, is the chief claim of the engineer. It is recognized, however, that the increase in service range is not at all commensurate with the increase in power. For instance, a station of 5,000 watts, covering a radius of 400 miles, would not reach 4,000 miles if it went up to 50,000 watts.

Two stations in the United States have experimented with transmissions above 50,000 watts. WGY having tried 100,000 and 200,000 on some after-midnight tests, while KDKA is being rebuilt for a capacity of 100,000 watts, and even looks to the day when it can go on the air with 500,000 watts, if such power is ever permitted by the U.S. Radio Commission.

A THOUGHT

No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other.—St. Matthew vi 24.

The measure of a master is his success in bringing all men round to his opinion twenty years later.—Emerson.

Loose Ends

We lose more than a skating rink out at the Willows—Humanism makes a fatal blunder at the altar—and Skegness plans a terrible revenge.

By R. B. W.

THE OTHER night we were watching the excellent Rotary Ice Carnival, thinking of the exciting times we had seen in the Arena in days gone by, the days of world championship hockey, and wondering if they would ever return to these premises. A few hours later our question was answered in the negative and the burning of the old Arena seemed more than the destruction of a wooden skating rink. It seemed to be the end of an era in the life of this place.

FOR a large part of the population of Victoria the Arena held more memories, perhaps, than any other public place in town. Young men, now with children of their own, can remember how they skated there on Saturday-mornings for fifteen cents in pre-war days, just after the rink opened. On Fort Street, at the corner of Linden Avenue, there is a telephone pole, or was the last time I looked, on which you could see the marks denoted into the wood by skate-blades. We used to amuse ourselves while waiting for the street car to take us to the Arena on Saturday-mornings by digging out these holes in the pole, on the north side of the street, for traffic traveled on the left then.

A LITTLE later, when one had grown a bit, would come the days when one would arise before dawn of a winter morning to play hockey from eight to nine o'clock before skating started, and the problem was to make sure that enough fellows turned out to pay for the price of the ice. Those were the days, too, of another age of professional hockey players; of Lester Patrick when he could leave through an opposing team like a shadow, of Cyclone Taylor, who could rush and score backwards; of Moose Johnson, in his prime; of Dunderdale, when he could out-stickhandle any man alive; of Bobby Rowe, Walter Smith and the rest—different players and different hockey. There were seven men to a side, including a rover, then, and it was less scientific, less organized than now, but some of us think more exciting.

LATER CAME another school of hockey and another school of players. The old men of the game could no longer keep up the pace and were replaced by fellows who were in entrance class when the old rink first opened—Clem Loughlin, Eddie Oestman, Frank Fredrickson and the others, to bring us another championship. Some day maybe there will be a new rink and new hockey players and a new style of hockey, but to many of us they will never compare with the old struggles, the old sound of steel on ice, the flash of colored sweaters, the silence of suspense and the mighty cheers of victory which we used to know in the old Arena. The memories of those great battles, which we hardly appreciated until they were moved to larger cities, have become a stirring and essential part of our community history.

IN NEW YORK, where many strange things originate, they have lately evolved another religion called Humanism. It is nothing new, of course, for New York to evolve another religion. They grow like toadstools down Washington Square way on the average of three or four a day, and in the classified advertising pages of the big New York papers you may find advertisements for more and stranger religions than those which infested Rome just as the Christian era was dawning. But this cult of Humanism appears to have made quite an impression and has secured wide publicity.

THE FIRST big success of Humanism was celebrated the other day when it performed a marriage service, with no mention of the Deity, no giving of the bride, and no promises to honor and obey. Such things have been done before, but the really unique and significant feature of the service was that the two high-contracting parties, Mr. Wyatt Schoolmaker and Miss Chicksa Andreevna Polliakova, made up the service for themselves as they went along. Instead of promising, as in the old-fashioned way, to love, honor and obey in sentences pronounced first by the minister, they gave their own promises in their own words, an arrangement which C. F. Potter, founder of the Humanist Society, said had cleared the marriage ceremony of "ancient and meaningless phrases" and had made a "contribution to the problem of how people are to get along with each other, even when they are married."

NOW THIS is all very well, but it dooms the Humanist movement to immediate failure. Not one in a hundred couples will ever face the altar if he has to make up the words of the marriage promises himself. And not one out of a hundred who has the courage to try it will succeed. The old-fashioned system is the only satisfactory one, for it takes account of the fact that at such times no man can talk, and if he does, you cannot expect him to keep any promises then made, for though he may talk he cannot think. That is if he is a decent fellow at all. Humanism is only for cold-blooded and experienced adventurers.

IN THE green and pleasant land of England, where you would least expect such a thing, a dark and dismal crime has just occurred which should be a solemn warning to the weather experts of our city. The town of Skegness, it seems, had enjoyed much sunshine this year, so much, indeed, that Skegness was boasting that it was a place where invalids could obtain more ultra-violet rays than in any other town in all England. Just as it was compiling an impressive sunshine record and its future as a health resort appeared assured, the record book and gauges disappeared.

THIS WAS no innocent disappearance. The Manchester Guardian, which seems to be a rather violent partisan of Skegness, charges flatly that it was the work of hired emissaries of some plane like Scarborough or Great Yarmouth, which are anxious to discredit their new rival. And if these places follow the advice of The Guardian they will take a terrible revenge. They will send their own secret agents to Skegness with instructions to pour ill-timed gallons of good water into the rain gauge of those rival watering places. If the average rainfall of neighboring resorts shows a sudden rise during the next year all England will know that Skegness has repaid in full measure. And meantime Mr. Denison ought to keep strict guard over the sanctity of his instruments up Gonzales Hill, so that no fate like that of Skegness and Scarborough and Great Yarmouth may befall us here. Those instruments have served this city nobly, much more nobly than the average family thermometer, and must have excited the jealous wrath of such abandoned regions as Vancouver long before this.

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity, fresh to strong easterly to southerly winds, unsettled and mild with occasional rains.

Stephen Jones, proprietor of the Dominion Hotel, has returned after a short business trip to Seattle.

H.M.S. Grafton, which left here a week ago Saturday, is certainly wasting no time on her homeward voyage. According to a dispatch from Asapulco she reached that port yesterday.

Ground was broken this morning on the new Oak Bay Hotel. It is intended that the building be opened on May 1, under the management of J. A. Virtue.

The Alaska steamer Topeka is to be remodelled and generally improved at an expense of $50,000," says The Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

A. E. Wood, vice-president of the Victoria Terminal Railway Company, arrived from Vancouver last evening and is registered at the Driad Hotel.

A trio of sealers arrived this morning in tow of the tug Pilot, which had been sent down the coast to bring them home.

Victoria United went down to defeat before the Garrison eleven in an association football game on Saturday afternoon. The score was 3 to 1, and the game throughout was most exciting.

Sour Stomachs Sweetened While You Eat

An occasional touch of indigestion is nothing serious, but if you are troubled frequently with sour stomach, heartburn, belching or excessive gas, it's a sure sign of too much acid; a condition that may lead to chronic disorders.

You needn't go on a diet or give up things you like to eat. A little Fape's Diapepsin will instantly neutralize the acids without impeding the assimilation of food, as most stomach remedies do. It will soothe the heart and strengthen the inflamed stomach lining, promote a normal painless digestion and bring about a permanent correction of the acid conditions.

Don't let your stomach drift into chronic disorders. Take the true and true way to permanent relief. Millions have found effective relief at all drug stores—60c.

At the monthly meeting of the Esquimalt Women's Institute on Tuesday evening, an interesting report of the recent district conference was read by Mrs. G. Wise, who had attended as institute delegate. Congratulations were extended to Mrs. A. Booth on her election to president of the district board. Mrs. Holligan reported a good attendance at the physical culture and dancing class. At present there are forty-two pupils registered. Mrs. Appleby reported on two meetings of the Child Hygiene Council, which had been held during the month. Mrs. Cave reported a successful card party and announced a whist drive would be held on Thursday, November 14, in St. Paul's Parish Hall. Mrs. Cave and Mrs. Sadler were appointed leaders in a membership drive.

Joseph Rice, who was the speaker of the evening, spoke on the care of the eyes, especially the eyes of children. At the conclusion of business refreshments were served. The hostesses were Mesdames Labster, Jackson and Appleby.

ELOPED WITH CHAMBERMAIDSon of Wealthy New Yorker
Weds Maid at Parents' Home

New York, Nov. 14.—The elopement of William M. Willock Jr., socially prominent and heir to a fortune, with Adelaide Ingelbrecht, twenty-year-old chambermaid at the home of his parents, became known today.

Mr. Willock Sr., a former vice-president of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, said: "My son was married last Wednesday at Oyster Bay. I have no idea where they are now, but I understand they are leaving in the morning for an extended trip to the south."

Asked whether he was reconciled to the marriage, he said: "I have no desire to reply to that."

The Willocks have a New York home on Fifth Avenue and country estates at Syosset, Long Island, and Lakewood, N.J. Mrs. Willock is the former Alice Jones, daughter of the late B. F. Jones Sr., steel manufacturer.

I.O.D.E. PRESENT CUP TO SCHOOL

Interesting Ceremony at Monterey School by Gonzales Chapter

A very interesting ceremony took place Tuesday in the auditorium of Monterey School, the occasion being the presentation to the school of a challenge cup by Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E. The regent, officers and other visitors were received by Capt. Dexter, principal, and Miss A. B. Cook.

The program opened with the singing of "Land of Hope and Glory" by the pupils, after which Capt. Dexter introduced the regent, Mr. B. Tyrwhitt-Drake, who in a brief but impressive speech brought to the children the idea of loyalty to their school, to the Dominion and to the Empire.

Mrs. Drake then presented to the school a handsome challenge cup.

In replying, Capt. Dexter thanked Mrs. Drake and the Gonzales Chapter for donating the cup in commemoration of Armistice Day. On behalf of the pupils, Sheila Downes presented Mrs. Drake with a beautiful bouquet of carnations. The pupils sang delightfully several patriotic songs. The Oak Bay School Board was represented by Trustees E. M. McConnan and P. F. Currie.

Niagara Falls Invites Veterans

Toronto, Nov. 14.—With the hope of securing the 1930 convention of the Canadian Legion of British Empire Service League for Niagara Falls, Ont., a large contingent of delegates from this province is being organized for the third Dominion convention to be held at Regina from November 25 to 28. The Ontario executive, at its last meeting in this city, selected the provincial president, Lieut.-Col. A. C. Ackerman of Peterboro, the provincial secretary, Alex. Shields of Toronto, and R. A. Sparks of the North York branch as its direct representatives at the convention. In addition to these, it is expected the majority of the 155 branches in the province will be represented either by their own delegates or by proxy. Some branches will send three or four delegates.

STAMMERING INDICATES REAL NERVOUS DEFECT

"Suddenly my boy began to stammer, though he never had before. This seems to be a classic explanation of stammering, and there is some reasonable doubt whether this is a true and accurate observation of what has really happened."

It is more than likely that the child has always had some speech difficulty which the parents considered "baby speech" or just the hard work of learning to talk, and then the real cause of the defect appeared after some noticeable upset. The child, instead of talking just slowly and perhaps jerkily, began to really stammer and stutter.

His parents are almost certain to do one or three things, all of which are frowned upon by experts in speech difficulties. The mother grows angry with the child and thinks he does it purposely. She makes him stop working over something and try to be as soon as he is away from the suggestion. Or she helps him out by finishing the sentence for him.

The result is that his nervousness is increased by her anger, or he realizes each time he opens his mouth that there is an unpleasant experience awaiting him, or he ceases to try because of his mother's help and just waits for her to finish for him.

As long as the child concentrates on difficulty it is improbable that it will disappear. In fact, he may become a life-long stutterer. It must be kept in mind that the cause of stammering is a very real nervous defect, the same type of nervous unbalance that

WESTERN PIONEER DIES IN BERMUDA

Late Mrs. Hardisty Was Daughter of Early Missionary

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 14 (By the Canadian Press).—Memories of the days of the Edmonton of more than seventy years are recalled with the passing Tuesday at Hamilton, Bermuda, of a member of one of the city's first families, Eliza Victoria MacDougall Hardisty, widow of the late Richard Hardisty, and eldest daughter of that pioneer missionary of the plains, Rev. George MacDougall.

When Rev. George MacDougall came here in 1863, he built a house and in 1865 he brought his family, then residing at Rosville mission on the shores of Lake Winnipeg by York boat. Two members of that family, however, did not come west just then but were left in Ontario to complete their studies. One, a son, David, and the other, Eliza, born at Victoria College, Cobourg, Ontario, while her father was in training for the illustrious ministry which he would afterwards fulfill. She completed her education at Hamilton College, and in the year 1885, this daughter joined her family at Victoria Mission, played the harmonium in the little mission church, helped her father to instruct his charges, and her mother with the care of a growing family of four young sisters, and two brothers who were older than she.

MARRIED IN 1888

Only for a year, however, for the spirit of romance was strong in the young country and Victoria mission

In September, 1886, was the scene of a happy wedding when Richard Hardisty, then Hudson's Bay factor at Rocky Mountain, claimed the missionary's eldest daughter for his bride. A honeymoon of a few weeks was spent in Port Edmonstone, and in October the young couple, accompanied by the bride's younger sister, Mrs. Leslie Wood of this city, made the journey to the fort at Rocky Mountain House, a post established to keep the Blackfoot and Plain Indians away from the unfriendly tribes who visited about Fort Edmonstone.

So far removed from what is generally termed "civilization," this bride received with much happiness at least one wedding gift of great value from the tribes who had learned to love her husband. This, a "silk" buffalo skin (as rare in buffalo herds as a "silver" is among foxes), was laid at her feet one day shortly after her arrival, by the chief of the Blackfoot.

In 1874 the "Big House," called by the Indians "Teetungwa," was built and occupied by the chief factor, at that time the residence then outside the fort after Rowan House was torn down, while the only other building was the Methodist mission.

SAYS ENGLAND THINKING MORE OF CANADA NOW

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—"They think more of us now than ever in England. They know more about Canada, and that makes them like Canada better."

This was the outstanding impression gained by Col. Victor Spencer, who returned this morning from a six weeks' trip to the Old Country. He took his two daughters to place them in school.

Col. Spencer said: "Canada got most valuable publicity out of the visit of the Prime Minister. Everywhere one went people had a good word to say about Canada."

"Among industrial directors there is a very noticeable tendency to consider favorably the establishment of branches in Canada, and I feel certain that in the next year or so there may be a very definite move on the part of a considerable number of manufacturing concerns to erect real factories here as important branches of the home plants."

"Quite a big change has come over the situation in their larger manufacturing methods in the Old Country. They have learned the theory and practice of mass production. It certainly does you good to see the tremendous number of British manufactured motor cars on the highways through England and Scotland. They may be creating new traffic problems, but at any rate the congestion is due to stimulated British production, not to foreign importations."

School Age Limit Is Set in Vancouver

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—The limit of free education in Vancouver city schools will be junior matriculation or its equivalent, but any pupil who persistently neglects to apply himself to his work seriously shall be reported to the board by his principal.

This is the regulation set by the school board at a special meeting last night, following several conferences with Parent-Teacher Association representatives and trustees of other municipalities. It replaces a rule made several weeks ago setting the age of seventeen as the limit for free education and requiring payment of an annual fee of $100 at that age.

Under the new system students who have had twelve years' tuition will not be enrolled until they have been granted by the board the privilege of further study.

National League Hockey Teams Swing Into Action To-night

THE SPORTS MIRROR

National League hockey teams swing into action to-night in the opening games of the 1929-30 season. Ten teams are campaigning for the championship at present held by the powerful Boston Bruins. New blood has been infused into practically all the clubs, and it looks like Calder's circuit will experience a successful season. One pleasing feature is that both Chicago and Pittsburgh, who were two of the weak sisters last season, have rebuilt their teams and appear to be in a position to be serious contenders. Ottawa, who slipped back last season, have not changed their club a great deal, but they hope to regain some of their lost prestige.

Eight of the ten clubs will be in action to-night, with the Montreal Canadiens at Ottawa; New York Rangers at Montreal opposing the Maroons; Boston at Detroit and Chicago at Toronto.

Boston's championship club looks pretty well set and will be thereabouts when the season is over. They have a speedy, strong aggression with plenty of reserve power, and Art Ross has built them into a hard-checking crew. Yes! Boston will bear watching.

Montreal Maroons have a new manager and a good coach, and "Dunc" Munro and Jerry Lafamme can convince Dutton, "Hooley" Smith and Stewart that when they lose the puck to the other team it is not good taste to loaf, they may get somewhere this season. The Maroons should do a lot better with Munro and Lafamme looking after them.

Montreal Canadiens will likely be the same fast and spectacular team as last year and other seasons. However, a great many of the Eastern critics claim they lack balance and too much depends on Moreau. Moreau is a great forward, but the club fails to get anywhere.

Ottawa still has "King" Clancy, rated as one of the greatest defence men in hockey to-day, and have signed a couple of amateurs who are said to be wenders.

The veteran Jack Adams in Detroit has selected the best of the Canadian League in Goodfellow and Rockburn, and will likely get into the American group play-off again.

Chicago will be better than last season, because it would be impossible to be much worse. They have a new manager and a new coach in Gardiner, while "Tuffy" Abel, former New York Ranger, will help a lot on the defence. If they let Kestis hang around the nets he will no doubt snare a lot of goals.

Pittsburgh have signed a couple of promising looking amateurs, but Frank Fredrickson will have his hands full keeping the club in the running.

New York Rangers are likely to fight it out with Boston for top place in the American group. They were a good team last year, and with the signing of "Clint" Johnson on Wednesday, Lester Patrick has a club that will make them all jump if they will not miss Abel.

Very little of a startling nature has been heard from the Los Angeles club outside of the fact that "Eg" Truitt-Conacher is the manager. They will be hard to score goals against with Worsley in the nets, but they certainly need a couple of scoring aids.

Toronto Maple Leafs had a good club last year, and they are all back again with the exception of the late "Shorty" Horne. The new additions to the Leafs are Charlie Conacher, who should make good, Gordon Eryson, who is highly recommended, and Cliff McBride, star of the Windsor club's defence. The Leafs have speed and youth in their favor and their style of open hockey should get them a long way this season.

"Y" HANDICAP RACES START

Events For Winter Season Lined Up By Swimming Club of Association

Margaret Moffat, May Feden, Rod MacMillan and Allan Stewart won the four handicap swimming races staged last night.

The events marked the opening of the winter season at the "Y," and were well attended by the swimmers of the association.

Eleanor Feden, May Feden and Dunc McPherson were second in the first, second and fourth races, while Chris Usher and Dick Healy tied for second honors in the third event.

This year three prizes will be given to both the girls' and men's sections of the club for the winners of the different contests during the season.

Awards will be presented to the girl and boy who win the greatest number of points in their respective divisions. Another will be given to the swimmers who show the greatest improvement, and a third will be awarded to the competitors who attend the greatest number of handicaps throughout the winter.

BAYS SPRING SURPRISE BY WIN OVER WILLOWS

Score 10-6 Victory Over Previous Undefeated Team in Badminton League

Emmanuel Baptists Keep Record Clear By Victory Over Cathedral Club

Another surprise featured the play in the Third Division of the Lower Island Badminton League last evening, when the J.B.A.A. handed the strong Willows team their first defeat of the season by a score of 10-6. Emmanuel Baptists kept their record clear with another win at the expense of the Cathedral Club. The score was 10-6.

The defeat of the Willows club leaves Emmanuel Baptists, North Saanich and Fairfield as the three undefeated in the Third Division.

J.B.A.A. secured an even break in the women's doubles but forged into a lead with the concluding of the men's doubles, three of whom went to the winners. Taking five out of eight mixed doubles also helped their cause and gave them a total of ten matches to their opponents six.

Emmanuel Baptists continued to show the way in their match with the Cathedral Club, but encountered difficulty in their opening matches. The home club put up a stubborn fight and got an even break in the men's doubles, taking two out of the four games scheduled. Emmanuel's first signs of superiority came in the women's doubles, when their fair representatives were on the long end of three of the four fixtures. This lead was further increased when the mixed doubles were played, Baptists winning five out of the eight.

The complete scores follow:

J.B.A.A. vs. Willows, former players being first mentioned.

Ticket holders are requested to turn in their tickets either Friday or Saturday of this week.

LAST STRIKE CALLED ON "IRON MAN"

J. McGinnity, One of Greatest Pitchers in Major Leagues, Died To-day

Helped Giants Win World Series in 1904 and 1905; Won Three Double-headers

New York, Nov. 14.—Joe McGinnity, one-time "iron man" of the pitching staff of the New York Giants, died at the home of his daughter in Brooklyn to-day. He was fifty-eight years old.

He had been critically ill since last August when he failed to rally after an operation for the removal of a tumor.

His baseball career extended over thirty-two years, beginning in Montgomery, Ala., in 1897, and ending only four years ago in Dubuque, Ia., where as player-manager he pitched twenty games at the age of fifty-three.

He was first called "the iron man" when as a member of the Brooklyn team he pitched six winning games against Pittsburgh in seven days, winning the pennant for his team.

He joined the big leagues in Baltimore in 1899, and continued as one of the foremost pitchers of his day for almost ten years. He came to Brooklyn in 1900 when a reduction of the National League circuit from twelve to eight clubs brought about a merger of the two teams.

REMAINED WITH MCGRAW
At the start of the 1901 season he jumped to the Baltimore Americans, then under the guidance of John J. McGraw, and when McGraw a year later came to New York to lead the New York Giants he came with him.

He remained with McGraw during the remainder of his major league days.

McGinnity figured prominently in the Giant pennant victories of 1904 and 1905, and divided two games in the 1905 world series against the Athletics. In June of 1904 he straightened his claim to fame by winning three double-headers. The triumphs of 1905, however, marked the peak of his success, although he remained with the Giants until 1909. He went with New York the following year and thereafter played on numerous minor league teams until his retirement.

FORESTERS SET UP COLONIST TO NEW SCORING MARK MEET FOUREX

Defeat Mac and Mac By 51-14 Score to Create Season's Hoop Record

Beats James Island Mark By Two Points; Axioms and Navy Win Games

Foresters, Navy and the Axioms won the three hoop games played at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium last night. These games were featured by one-sided scores, all the winners having quite a margin over their opponents. Scoring fifty-one points in their game with the Mac and Mac five, the Foresters set a new season record for points scored, beating the James Island mark by two points.

The Navy handed the Motor Mechanics a 25-7 facing, while the Axioms came out on the long end of a 32-5 score in their game with the Hudson's Bay women.

The Axioms went into the lead right at the commencement of the game and were never headed. At half time they were leading 16 to 3, and they continued their scoring in the final half. The Navy had plenty of shots at the basket but they were unable to make them count, while the winners had their shooting eyes in form and missing very few chances.

Jean Milliken, with ten points, led the scorers, with Jean Anderson and Ruby Bethel just behind her.

The teams follow:
Axioms—Jean Anderson 8, Jean Milliken 10, Bernice Penner 2, Nellie Ames 2, Ruby Bethel 6, Gladys Stype 4, and Kay Preston.

Hudson's Bay—E. Esler 2, G. Cook, E. Matthews 2, P. Butts, and G. MacDonald 1.

SHOW IMPROVEMENT
Showing some improvement, the Motor Mechanics held the Navy a little closer than expected, although the score sounds rather convincing. In their last appearance the Mechanics were beaten still more decisively and the Navy were favored to run up a much larger score than they did. In the first half the men in blue scored nineteen points while their opponents were held to a single basket. After the rest interval very little scoring was done, the Navy collecting six points while the Mechanics rolled in five.

The teams follow:
Navy—Smith 2, Barr 10, Donald 13, Freeman 2, MacRae and Stone, Motor Mechanics—Anfield, Rollinson, Thompson, Graves 4, Johnston 3, and Farmer.

Bob Addis and Albert Martin went on a scoring rampage in the final game of the evening against Mac and Mac, scoring twenty and eighteen points respectively. The entire Foresters' team played nice ball.

Dempey was the only member of the Mac and Mac five who seemed able to locate the hoop and he was required to leave the game on the four personal fouls.

Alain Lemarquand refereed all the games.

The teams follow:
Foresters—Addie 20, Martin 18, Cann 8, Reynolds 7, Irving, Morin and Fenwick.

Mac and Mac and Prior-Veitch 1, Dempey 6, Rodgson, Partington 3, Seabrook 4, Spencer and MacGowan.

Mac and Mac and Prior-Veitch 1, Dempey 6, Rodgson, Partington 3, Seabrook 4, Spencer and MacGowan.

Stanley Patrick Will Continue As Cubs' President

Stanley Patrick, president of the Victoria Cubs, arrived back in the city this morning after attending the meeting of the directors of the Pacific Coast Hockey League in Seattle yesterday. He will remain here until Sunday when he will leave for Vancouver to resume his duties as president of the club. He will reside in the mainland city during the hockey season.

Newsies Hoping to Hand League Leaders in City Basketball a Setback

With the Fourx-Colonist game heading the card, three games of basketball in the City League are scheduled for the Centennial gymnasium to-night. A women's "B" game and another senior "C" encounter will complete the evening's games.

In the first game, two old rivals will hook up with James Island opposing Keating. The Islanders have already dropped two games in their division and if they hope to remain in the race for league honors they need a win to-night. Keating are at present right up with the leaders and they also will be out for a victory.

LOCAL TEAM WILL TRAVEL

Members of Garrison Badminton Club to Oppose Hill Club of Vancouver

Club Championships Start Next Week; Two New Trophies Donated

With a programme drawn up for the next three or four weeks the members of the Garrison Badminton Club are looking forward to a busy time.

To-morrow night a team of thirty players will leave for the mainland to meet the Hill Club of Vancouver in their annual friendly match. Capt. Raymond has lined up a strong team to pit against the experienced mainland club.

Commencing next week the first annual club championships will start and will be in operation about three weeks. Dr. Ridewood president of the club, has donated a trophy for the men's section, while the women's section has presented a similar trophy for the women. There will be open singles for both men and women, open and handicap doubles for both, also open and handicap mixed doubles.

With three teams functioning in the Lower Island Badminton League and playing three matches a week, and the odd friendly match, and the tournament progressing for some time the members of the club are looking forward to a strenuous time.

The following members of this club are making the trip to Vancouver to-morrow night: Major P. Hennessey, R. E. Despecker, E. Woods, Major Gibson, Whitney Griffiths, Major Merston, B. Flett, Dr. Ridewood, C. Holmes, Capt. MacDonald, T. Matson, B. E. Edgell, C. H. Raymond, T. Holmes, Miss F. Oakes, Mrs. G. Raymond, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Merston, Mrs. Ridewood, Miss M. Miller, Miss J. Lang, Miss S. Parr, Miss I. Wilcox, Mrs. Hodgkinson, Mrs. Gillespie, Miss N. Wilson and Miss Nicholson.

FORESTERS SET UP COLONIST TO NEW SCORING MARK MEET FOUREX

Defeat Mac and Mac By 51-14 Score to Create Season's Hoop Record

Beats James Island Mark By Two Points; Axioms and Navy Win Games

Foresters, Navy and the Axioms won the three hoop games played at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium last night. These games were featured by one-sided scores, all the winners having quite a margin over their opponents. Scoring fifty-one points in their game with the Mac and Mac five, the Foresters set a new season record for points scored, beating the James Island mark by two points.

The Navy handed the Motor Mechanics a 25-7 facing, while the Axioms came out on the long end of a 32-5 score in their game with the Hudson's Bay women.

The Axioms went into the lead right at the commencement of the game and were never headed. At half time they were leading 16 to 3, and they continued their scoring in the final half. The Navy had plenty of shots at the basket but they were unable to make them count, while the winners had their shooting eyes in form and missing very few chances.

Jean Milliken, with ten points, led the scorers, with Jean Anderson and Ruby Bethel just behind her.

The teams follow:
Axioms—Jean Anderson 8, Jean Milliken 10, Bernice Penner 2, Nellie Ames 2, Ruby Bethel 6, Gladys Stype 4, and Kay Preston.

Hudson's Bay—E. Esler 2, G. Cook, E. Matthews 2, P. Butts, and G. MacDonald 1.

SHOW IMPROVEMENT
Showing some improvement, the Motor Mechanics held the Navy a little closer than expected, although the score sounds rather convincing. In their last appearance the Mechanics were beaten still more decisively and the Navy were favored to run up a much larger score than they did. In the first half the men in blue scored nineteen points while their opponents were held to a single basket. After the rest interval very little scoring was done, the Navy collecting six points while the Mechanics rolled in five.

The teams follow:
Navy—Smith 2, Barr 10, Donald 13, Freeman 2, MacRae and Stone, Motor Mechanics—Anfield, Rollinson, Thompson, Graves 4, Johnston 3, and Farmer.

Bob Addis and Albert Martin went on a scoring rampage in the final game of the evening against Mac and Mac, scoring twenty and eighteen points respectively. The entire Foresters' team played nice ball.

New Players and Managers Feature Season's Opening

Promises To Be One of Most Profitable and Most Interesting Winters Since N.H.L. Took Present Form; New Rules Will Also Feature This Year's Schedule; Eight Clubs Start Out To-night With Pittsburgh and New York Americans Seeing Action Saturday.

New York, Nov. 14.—A new hockey season, one which promises to be the biggest and most profitable and certainly the most interesting since the National Hockey League took its present form, gets under way to-night.

Eight of the league's ten teams will ring up the curtain with new rules, new managers and new players to attract attention all around. The Boston Bruins, champions last year, open at Detroit. The New York Rangers, who took the runner-up position, meet the Montreal Maroons in their opening clash at Montreal. Chicago's rebuilt Black Hawks go to Toronto and Les Canadiens of Montreal to Ottawa. The other teams, Pittsburgh and the New York Americans, do not see action until Saturday.

SCOTS PLAY FIRST GAME ON SATURDAY

Will Meet Navy at Willows in Second Match of Senior Rugby League

Travis and Coventry Going to Vancouver For Meeting of Union on Sunday

The Canadian Scottish senior rugby team will swing into action against the Navy in the former's first league fixture at the Willows Park on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Final announcement of the team will not be made until after this evening's practice, but it is expected to be one of the strongest this has represented the militiamen since they entered senior rugby. Several of the fighting highlanders made their first appearance of the year playing in an exhibition match for the University School Old Boys last week.

Godfrey Wenman, hard-hitting forward with the Scots, showed up particularly well during the practice, while Bernard, another member of the pack played full, but was forced from the game with an injured knee in the second half. Unless his leg has improved he may be forced to miss the first game.

Many of last year's players will again be on the team this year, while a few new faces may be seen.

Campbell Forbes will most likely lead the pack in the initial encounter, while Jack Horne, vice-captain, is expected to take charge of the backfield forwards in the initial encounter and have had considerable experience Bruce Forbes and Johnny Rowlands should also bolster up the scrum in which Fanning, Miller and Lamb are expected to play.

With Bill Oliver, Jack Horne, Bern Kinsman and Brian Runnings on the roster, the back division should work smoothly and prove fast on the back field.

Bill Pollard, Bobby Yee, Bill Parry and Jack Cain will try for places behind the scrum and should be exceptionally good as half backs. They will probably divide the game, one pair playing in the initial encounter and the other taking the field for the next game.

Although the Navy went down to defeat in their opening game against the J.B.A.A., they have a husky squad and are expected to put up a good game against the Scots. With Billy Holmes, Stagg, Parker and several other standbys, they should be at considerable strength for the match.

TRAVIS GOING TO VANCOUVER
Travis has been completed its initial fixture, Bob Travis, manager of the Scottish, will leave for Vancouver with Captain Coventry to represent the local branch of the B.C. Rugby Union at the meeting in Vancouver on Sunday.

Burnit this meeting, the date for the first McKechnie Cup games in Victoria will be decided. The locals have requested a game on December 7, but although this is being considered by the mainland body, nothing definite will be announced until after the meeting in Vancouver.

Oak Bay added another goal to their string while they held Victoria scoresless in the last period.

Victoria had one, to both Oak Bay and Victoria College in matches played this year. They intend to challenge Oak Bay to a return on their own grounds in an effort to reverse the present defeat.

James McIlroy, the Oak Bay captain, and Betty Thorne each scored two goals, while E. Schuchard and J. Smith scored Victoria's goals.

The teams follow:
Oak Bay High School—E. Lipton, G. Downes, J. Adams, E. Herrin, P. Thomson, C. Partridge, H. Horne, J. McIlroy (captain), B. Thorne, A. Bucklin and J. Bruce.

Victoria High School—F. Gibbs, G. Lanchester, M. Kinsman, A. Brewster, S. Gemmell, M. Schuchard, C. Perrenes, J. Smith, A. Gibson, A. Johnson and E. Schuchard.

Miss Hinton of Oak Bay and Miss Miller of Victoria officiated as referees.

QUEENS AND TORONTO TO SHATTER TIE

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The fight for rugby championship honors in the east will come within an arm's reach of conclusion this Saturday when Toronto Varsity and Queens meet to break the deadlock in the inter-collegiate union and Hamilton Tigers to take on the Sarnia aggregation. Hamilton again won the inter-provincial union title by defeating Toronto Argos last week-end while Sarnia sprung the biggest surprise of the season by downing Balm Beach and capturing the championship of Ontario football union.

The revised set of playing rules, allowing forward passing in all three zones and involving other measures to speed up the game and increase scoring will get their first real test to-night and bring in a great deal of uncertainty as to the result. The free passing is the leading development, but a rule allowing only three defensive players in the goal zone when the puck goes into it and a new prohibition on holding the puck are expected to make life hard for the goalies.

FIVE NEW MANAGERS
Five new managers, including three who will play as well as guide their teams, provide the most significant change in the rosters of the teams. The three player-managers are Dunc Munro, former captain of the Montreal Maroons, who succeeded Edie Gerard; Frank J. Fredrickson, Pittsburgh's temperamental centre, who follows Odie Cleghorn, and Lionel Conacher, of the New York Americans, formerly the "bad boy" of the league's defence men, who succeeds Tommy Gorman.

At Chicago Tom Shaughnessy, the only United States-born big league hockey manager, makes his debut in pro ranks after meeting with much success among the amateurs. The veteran Dick Irvin is his assistant. Newey Lalonde, former manager of the Americans and of Niagara Falls, has taken over the reins at Detroit.

Chicago's Black Hawks, halland's last year, come up to the season's opening with the greatest array of new talent, but nearly every team can boast of a few promising recruits. The champion Boston Bruins stand out as last year's lineup to a great extent.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Salary deficits having been satisfactorily adjusted, Frank Nighbor last night yesterday afternoon signed a one-year contract to again play for the Ottawa Hockey Club of the National Hockey League. The far-famed poke-checking veteran will be in uniform when Montreal Canadians invade the Capital to set the league's 1929-30 schedule under way to-night.

The break between Nighbor and the Ottawa management came over the efforts of the club to cut down the salary of the "Punch" Nighbor's salary of $7,200 by $2,000. The salary figure contained in the one-year contract to which Nighbor finally affixed his signature was not made public.

DETROIT TO BE THREAT THIS YEAR

Cougars With Three Promising Young Players Boasts Powerful N.H.L. Club

Jack Adams Expects to Draw From Detroit Olympics For Further Material

Detroit, Nov. 14.—"Smiling Jack" Adams, manager of the Cougars, Detroit's National Hockey League Club, has added only three men to his team this year, but he is freely predicting a world of improvement in the club that dropped out of the play-offs in the first round last season.

A great deal of Adams' optimism centres around the Detroit minor leaguers, the Olympics, from which "Smiling Jack" drew two of his new players.

Adams and Frank Foyston, the latter manager of the Olympics, both have declared the Olympic club is carrying the best young material ever assembled for a minor league outfit.

Adams eventually expects to use the cream of this material in the Cougar line-up.

POWERFUL DEFENCE

Harvey Rockburn, sturdy defence man, and Eddie Goodfellow, centre, are the Olympic players who came to the Cougars this season. Rockburn earned the reputation of a hard-checking, fast skating defence man last year, and Goodfellow was responsible for much of the Olympics' scoring punch. Harold Hicks, defence man, from the Montreal Maroons, and "Rusty" Hughes, with Buffalo last year, will also be on the Cougar line-up, Adams said. Captain Reg. Noble, who last year proved at times to be a whole hockey team in himself, is the third Cougar defence man.

Dempsey Out To Sign Fields For A Title Fight

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Jack Dempsey is hustling to the Jackie Fields, world's welterweight champion, to a contract calling for a title fight, with the winner of the My Sullivan-Vince Dundee bout at the Coliseum Friday night.

Dempsey is one of five promoters trying to sign Fields for a championship bout, with the other four, including Paddy Harmon, president of the Chicago Stadium Corporation, manoeuvring for a field-jimmy McLarnin battle.

Besides Goodfellow in the middle of the ice, Jim Herberts and Bobby Connors last year's stalwarts, will be on hand.

HAY IS STAR

At the wing posts, George Hay, who, experts estimate, engineered plays which resulted in three-fourths of Detroit's goals last season, will lead the list. Alternating with Hay at left wing will be Herbie Lewis, speedy youngster, who fractured his collarbone last season and left the squad before the end of the year. Carson Cooper, who finished near the top of high scorers last season, and Larry Laurie, will alternate at right wing.

"Dolly" Dolson will be in front of the net. Bernard Brophy, a youngster who played a little last year, will be the Jack of All Trades for the team, filling in wherever he is needed.

HAWAIIAN TOURNEY TO START

Classy Field of Pro and Amateur Golfers Will Seek Golf Championship

First Eighteen Holes Carded To-morrow; Mehlhorn Will Not Defend Title

Honolulu, Nov. 14.—Thirty-three golfers, representing some of the best talent of the United States, Japan, the Philippines, and the Hawaiian Islands will tee off Friday in the second Hawaiian open golf championship for $6,000 in cash prizes for professionals and cups for the amateurs.

Eighteen holes will be played both Friday and Saturday, and thirty-six on Sunday over the Waialeale course, which is 6,400 yards long. Par is 72.

Bill Mehlhorn of New York, winner of last year's championship, will not defend his title, but a representative group of golfers will endeavor to uphold the mainland honors. They include Tommy Armour, Detroit; Gene Sarazen, New York; Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo.; Phil Taylor, Victoria, B.C.; Craig Wood, Bloomfield, N.J.; Ed Dudley, Concordville, Pa.; Billy Burke, New York; Benny Coltrin, Los Angeles, Calif.; Olin Dutra, Los Angeles, Calif.; William Westfield, N.J.; W. McKean, San Francisco; Mortie Dutra, Tacoma; Johnny Dawson, Chicago, amateur; and Charley Chung, Redlands, Calif.

From Japan: T. Miyamoto; Y. Yasuda and Majime Kawaaki, the latter an amateur, are entered, while the Phil-

PRINT THIS ABOUT Joint-Ease Says Druggist

"Joint-Ease" is selling like hot cakes in my store. Because it is a wonderful and speedy remedy for all joint troubles. But why not impress on tens of thousands of suffering people some of the things that doctors tell me almost daily.

"Some say that it knocks out lumbago overnight—others that for chest colds and sore throat it has no equal, while many insist that there is nothing they ever tried that is so efficient for neuralgia, neuritis and even head colds and vile nasal catarrh."

Answering the above letter, we, the makers of Joint-Ease, know that what this thriving Ottawa druggist says is true, but we still maintain that Joint-Ease is prepared for stiff, inflamed, painful, swollen joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, fingers or spine.

You'll like to use stainless Joint-Ease, for with just one minute's rubbing it soaks in through the flesh directly to the ailing bones, joints and ligaments—that's why it succeeds—when other Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—and without any waste of time all swelling and congestion disappears. Made in Canada—costs only 60c a tube. All druggists sell lots of it.

His Name's Pete, Et Comment!—By Jimmy Thompson

Les Canadiens, the "Flying Frenchmen," appear to be headed to another colorful season in the National Hockey League with the three musketeers in the front line, Morens, Joliat and Lepine doing the needful. And of the trio Lepine can hold his own with the best, and how his mates can travel. Last year, in fact, Lepine maintained his form throughout the season, while Morens slipped a bit, though flashy as ever. They're a sweet three—Aurel, Howie and Pete—and the latter, to us, looks like a million dollars this year.

Morgan Will Meet Mack In Non-title Bout

Los Angeles, Nov. 14.—Jack Doyle, promoter, last night announced he had signed Ted Morgan, Seattle, junior lightweight champion, for a non-title bout here November 23 with Eddie Mack of Denver.

It will be the third meeting between the champion and the youth from St. Regis College. Mack won the first bout but the second ended in a draw.

Pinies will be represented by Larry Montes.

The Hawaiian Island professionals, Alex. Bell, Ted Bennett, Joe Spencer and Arthur Bell, and the amateurs, Francis I. Brown, R. D. Bell, Francis Hong, Ben Kong, Kammy Lau, S. K. Makamura, B. J. Bridgeford and Weller Noble, represent the best in local talent.

Mainland Japanese and Philippine golfers are here as guests of the club.

TOWNSEND TO LEAVE ALLEN

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—Billy Townsend, Vancouver lightweight, who fought such a slashing draw recently with Ted Morgan, junior lightweight champion, will henceforth be fighting under the direction of J. McCranor, a Vancouver sportsman, who has been a close student of the mitt game.

Billy's contract with Jack Allan expired on October 23, and arrangements could not be made for its renewal. Townsend and McCranor will spend the next couple of weeks at Port Alberni, where the former will train for his fight with Al Foreman for the Canadian lightweight championship at the Arena on Wednesday, December 4.

This fight is to be promoted by Jack Allan. The bout will be twelve rounds at 135 pounds.

Early in January Townsend and his brother Joe, with McCranor, will leave for the south and east for a six weeks' trip, during which time they propose to take on two or three good boys, including Eddie Mack and Goidie Hess.

By reason of his last fight with Wildcat Carter in California, Townsend is a big drawing card in the south.

Charley Belanger Will Meet Lomski

Detroit, Nov. 14.—Charley Belanger of Winnipeg, light-heavyweight champion of Canada, will meet Leo Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash., here Friday night in a ten-round elimination bout for the title recently vacated by Tommy Loughran, Dick Dunn, manager night, Belanger replaces George Courtney of Oklahoma City, who was forced out of the fight with an infected toe. Yale Okun, New York, has been signed to meet the winner of Friday night's engagement.

Sonnenberg Wins Two Out of Three Falls From "Strangler" Lewis

Misses Tackle and Lands Among Spectators; 11,000 in Attendance

Los Angeles, Nov. 14.—Gus Sonnenberg retained his heavyweight wrestling championship before 11,000 persons here last night by winning two out of three falls from Ed "Strangler" Lewis in a return match.

The champion's flying tackle was working better than in the meeting between the two here recently in which Lewis claimed Sonnenberg tackled him while his back was turned after he thought the champion had been disqualified.

Sonnenberg took the first fall in 24 minutes 45 seconds, lost the second to Lewis on a headlock in 13 minutes 33 seconds, and won the final fall in 3 minutes 5 seconds. Both the champion's falls were recorded by way of the flying tackle route. Sonnenberg missed one tackle near the end of the match and fell into the press box. He returned to the ring in 15 seconds.

BOWLING

With Les Fox rolling an aggregate of 683 for a new season's high mark, the Rogers-improved that standing in the Commercial League last night by winning three games from The Coliseum Want Ads at the Arcade Alley.

Fox rolled 199, 180 and 234. His last score also gave him individual scoring honors.

In the strepitous fixture between the Huskies and Elks, the former won two of the three games. Al Falk of the Elks won aggregate honors with 630, while B. Bennett of the Huskies was high individual with 277.

To Use Vancouver And Seattle Ice For Home Battles

Eighteen Home Games Will Be Divided Between Two Cities; Chances Are That Franchise and Players Will Be Taken Over by Tacoma Next Season; League Will Open on Monday as Originally Intended With Cubs Opposing Champion Lions.

Seattle, Nov. 14.—The Pacific Coast Hockey League magnates delved no farther into the future than was absolutely necessary at their meeting here yesterday and did nothing about plans for the Victoria Cubs after the 1929-30 playing season.

The officials decided that the Cubs will play the present season as a road club, the eighteen-game schedule being divided between Seattle and Vancouver, B.C., each of the cities taking over the six games its own sextette was to have played in Victoria.

The six remaining games, in which Portland was to have played in Victoria, will be divided between Seattle and Vancouver.

Followers of hockey in Seattle took the fact that the team was to retain its identity as evidence of an intention to have a four-club league again during the 1930-31 season. That players and franchise will be taken over by Tacoma interest appeared the most general impression in hockey circles.

NEGOTIATIONS HALTED

Tacoma evinced a considerable degree of interest in the possibility of entering the league last spring, negotiations having been interrupted by the death of Pete Muldoon, manager of the Seattle club, who was helping the Tacomans make arrangements for the sport.

As a result of the solution reached yesterday, the Seattle Eskimos will open the season with the Cubs next Tuesday night at the local arena, instead of at Victoria as the schedule called for.

The Vancouver Lions will be here on the following Friday evening.

The readjustment of the league programme gives Seattle twenty-seven games instead of the eighteen originally planned. All contests in which the Eskimos are the home club will be played on Friday nights, as they appeared on the original schedule. The engagements in which the Cubs appear as home club, whether against the Eskimos or against the Buckaroos, will be held on Tuesdays.

Present at yesterday's meeting were Frank Patrick, Vancouver manager and league president; Stanley Patrick, president of the Victoria club; Bobby Rowe, Portland owner-manager; and President Hugh Caldwell, Vice-President, Stan Drumman and Manager Lloyd Turner of Seattle.

Reggie McNamara And Partner Win Six-day Bike Race

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Reggie McNamara, Newark, N.J., veteran, and Gateano Belloni of Italy, won Chicago twenty-second six-day bicycle race, which ended at 11 o'clock last night. McNamara and Belloni, both veterans of the game, took the lead early Wednesday and held it to the finish.

Capablanca Has Issued Challenge To Chess Champion

Paris, Nov. 14.—Jose Capablanca, Cuban chess master, has issued a formal challenge to Alexander Alekhine, Russian expert, who has just won the world's chess championship at Wiesbaden. The Cuban hopes that the challenge will be accepted shortly and expects that the matches will be played either in New York or Bradley Beach, N.J.

Member of Ports Signs Contract With Pittsburgh

Port Arthur, Nov. 14.—Cliff Barton, right wing player of the Port Arthur Allan Cup hockey team, yesterday signed with Pittsburgh of the National Hockey League for a six-day for the Smokey City. He is the sixth member of last year's team to leave town. Only one of the regular line-up remains along with Friday and L'Heureux, apares.

EASY DECISION

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—Chet Shandell, giant San Francisco heavyweight, doled out a terrific beating to "Bad News" Johnson, Bakersfield, to win an easy ten-round decision here last night.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocodile that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, crocodile is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crocodile, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crocodile goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Man Injured In Street Car Crash

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—One man was injured yesterday when a street car was struck by a Canadian National Railway switch engine at a level crossing in this city. Harry Collin, the only passenger in the street car, is in a hospital with a fractured collarbone and spine injuries. The motor-man-conductor was not injured.

While neither the engine nor street car was moving very fast when the crash occurred, the latter was derailed and whirled about on the street in almost a complete circle.

Times Expedition Closing On Trail Of Santa's Home

Brave Explorers Battle Wolves and Hardships of Arctic To Be Rewarded With Promises of Success in Search for Headquarters of St. Nicholas.

(By CAPTAIN F. E. KLEINSCHMIDT) Special Correspondent of the Times and Head of Expedition to Home of Santa Claus.

Station FEE—Banks Land, By Wire- less.—Since leaving Polarsuk, the most northern Eskimo village, we have made over 300 miles. We crossed Wales Strait separating Victoria Land from Banks Land. Crossing the ice-pack and heavy flocks the last of the wolves left us and returned to land.

I have good news for the readers of The Times and our spirits are high. We are going to be successful in finding the home of Santa Claus. Before leaving the Eskimo village a wrinkled but kindly-faced old woman called Annok, gave us valuable information.

She told us that when she was younger and with another tribe she had often observed at a certain time of the year, corresponding with our December 24, the great spirit driving a magnificent team of reindeer high above the snow-capped mountains on his way South. She also described these mountains and the mountain pass through which we would have to go on our way North. There such a fierce wind blowing that no Eskimo has ever been beyond it.

THE SPIRIT OF LAYLUK. This old Annok says is the cave of a fierce spirit, Layluk, the North Wind. He is greatly feared by the Eskimos for he has often frozen people to death. He is clothed in a sable cloak, black as the Arctic night, and when he shakes the folds of his blanket such fierce cold blasts come from the North that the water turns to ice a hundred feet thick and the Eskimos cannot fish or hunt. With one blast he covers the earth with a thick mantle of snow in the fall. If we can get beyond the cave of Layluk, we will be at the borderland of the great spirit Santa Claus. The other good news came when we were in danger of perishing with the battling of the wolves. We saw a great light, like a searchlight sweeping the heavens and we at first took it to be the Aurora Borealis or Northern Lights.

We stood in awe and wonder and even the wolves paused in their attack and slunk away.

Patunuk shouted "The Great Spirit"—but I am going to let Sparks tell you the details.

I have often fought wolves and the experience was nothing new to me. Sparks had never seen wolves except in a zoo and when the fight was so exciting, he is still nervous and talking about it.

We are already having such a strong cold northwest we believe we are close to the cave of Layluk. We cannot take our hands out of gloves, the snow is whirling in such fury around us. We have built two little igloos out of snow blocks for shelter and are making tea on our Primus stoves in asbestos lined boxes. Sparks is sitting close to them in order to handle the wireless.

SPARKS DESCRIBES THE BATTLE WITH THE WOLVES. You should have seen our caravan and the procession of reindeer teams as we left the village. You will see the pictures here that will give you only a faint idea of the reality. We found that instead of traveling with dogteams as we had expected, the Captain decided to use Reindeer alone on account of the extra burden of dog feed.

Well, after getting our equipment together and loading it into the sleds we started off. First came the Captain, Annok, with two big snow-white reindeer hitched up like a team of horses. They were using a big broad sleigh which looked like the pictures I have often seen of sleighs used in Russia. It had a hood of reindeer skins over the back for the Captain had to use his compass, sextant and chronometer to take observations and check up our speed and direction.

Next came Patunuk, also driving two deer, but instead of driving alone as the Captain does to lead the way, he had hitched behind his deer and strung out in single file, three more sleds, but smaller, each drawn by a single reindeer. Each animal will step in the tracks of the deer in front of him who is breaking the trail. I was riding in the third sleigh, and as the sleighs were all tied together, I had no driving to do, but watch and enjoy the unique experience.

I wish you children could have reindeer, and I believe the time will come when reindeer will be imported and used in the Northern part of the United States and Canada, for it is an exhilarating experience to ride behind a pair of these swift and sure-footed animals, over the snow. The moment the sleigh stops for a few minutes, the reindeer will paw for a white moss called reindeer moss.

TRAVELING AT TOP SPEED. Behind me, Kitsenna drove another team of reindeer and to his sled were tied three deer with three sleighs. The reindeer were in fine condition and we travelled at a great pace all day, or rather all night, for we are now so far North that we do not see the sun for three months in the year, but the moon shining on the vast expanse of snow makes it as bright almost as daylight.

As the moon was just dipping below the mountains and it began to get dark, I heard a long drawn-out howl, like the dogs would set up at the Eskimo village. Then more howls and soon I saw shadowy forms on each side of us. I thought they were dogs, but big, lean lanky dogs.

FLASH OF FLAME. Next I saw a flash of flame and the report of a gun from the Captain's sleigh. Talk about your blood freezing! I felt awful cold all of a sudden. We kept on going, but the reindeer instead of following single file left their tracks and sped along all bunched together.

The wolves drew closer and we could see their eyes glittering all around us. The Captain and Mrs. K's rifles barked continuously. Then they stopped and the Captain's command came: "Form a circle with the sleighs on the outside. Get your guns."

We took alcohol, poured it over a sleeping bag and lighted it. The Eskimos piling seal blubber on top of it until we had a blazing fire. The wolves howling and snapping long, sharp teeth closed in on the fire and sharp snarling within a few feet of Captain Kleinschmidt and his party of brave Eskimos. Patunuk, who had opened fire upon the pack with a rifle soon stood among the dead animals. The Captain would fire at a wolf and then use his gun as a club. The wolves refused to move back a step and the Captain and the others kept up a rapid fire of rifles.

WOLVES WERE SAVAGE. Wolves, so most people believe, will not prove forward to attack if a fire is burning. The wolves on this night were unusually savage and the crackling flames failed to keep the beasts away. They even leaped toward the guns as they cracked, and it soon was evident that our party was in great danger.

"If we are to find Santa Claus for the little Vancouver Island boys and girls, we must make this fight a victory before long," the Captain shouted.

FIGHT WITH THE WOLVES. Yes, Mrs. K nodded and then her rifle spoke and a great shaggy wolf leaped into the air and fell dead. Then four big shaggy beasts suddenly made a leap at two reindeer back of the Captain. Colloper, the leader rose on his hind feet and as the wolf leaped at his throat he brought his forefoot down in a saber-like thrust, the sharp, pointed hoof slit the wolf wide open and he fell dead inside the circle. The other deer dispatched another wolf the same way, but before they could recover the two other wolves were at their throats and they were all rolling in the snow and our circle was in confusion. Kitsenna threw a spear into one wolf and Patunuk made one leap with his long snow-knife and that finished the other wolf before he could get to the reindeer.

"Protect the reindeer" the Captain shouted, "for if they are killed we will be lost."

We drew our circle closer with the reindeer inside. The Captain and Mrs. K shot and shot, and did the same until dead wolves were piled in front of us.

Just as it seemed that the battle was won by a long team of reindeer, another, wireless message, something happened that changed the future of this expedition. High overhead there appeared a great light. The snow and ice-capped mountains were light as day and the beams as from a powerful searchlight traced their way down into the valley and picked up our battling party and wild wolves.

SAVED. The Northern Lights, this gives us good aim for our guns. I exclaimed. "Look," Kitsenna shouted. "We are saved, it is the Great Spirit," and the good fire fell upon his knees. We three white people stood in awe.

High up in the sky we saw the most wonderful vision of our lives. Fleeting clouds riding just above the mountain peaks looked like a great sleigh drawn by a long team of reindeer.

The apparition and the light came closer and the clouds sank lower. You could hear crackling and snapping as they rolled by. Streams of light from a long whip. Streams of light from rockets shot over us, flash after flash, and the wolves, at least those who were not killed, began to slink away almost crawling on their stomachs.

"Saved," the Eskimos shouted and danced in glee.

"What do you make out of this?" I asked Kitsenna. "The Great Spirit of the North you call Santa Claus," he replied simply but firmly. "He has with his long whiskers and whip with which he whipped the wolves? See, he is headed North toward that great star. That's our route. We have started to find Santa and he is leading the way."

IS IT SANTA? "Now, what can you make out of this?" Mrs. K. believes it was Santa Claus. You also have the keen sight and quick conclusion of the Eskimos, but we white people have a more matter of fact mind, given to analyzing facts. If it were Santa, what could he be doing here at this time of the year so far South of his home?

Mrs. K. answered it this way: Every owner of race horses before a big event exercises his horses and gives them tests on the track, so why shouldn't Santa exercise and harden down his reindeer before he starts on his great Christmas journey? And a horse race is nothing to compare with what Santa's reindeer must face on Christmas eve.

So we hitched up our teams again and hurried on for fear the wolves would come back. Some of them did, but they were only stragglers and we picked them off when they came near. Next, we crossed an arm of the Polar Sea on the ice and as we left the land we left the wolves behind, too.

the snow and power did not receive anything. Mr. Adams explained that more than $1,000,000 has been paid to the Government of Canada by the United States Treasury in settlement of the fur seal controversy and declared that fur sealers have a right to a big share of this total through loss of employment and property.

Eleven Are Facing Trial at Boston. Boston, Nov. 14.—Eleven persons were indicted by the federal grand jury here yesterday as a result of the white slave ring investigation which followed the slaying here of Samuel Reinstein, New York racketeer. All are charged with conspiracy to violate Mann Act.

Those indicted are Morris Schwartz, Rose Nestant, Morris Stein, and his wife, Ida; Louis Stein and his wife, Anna; Polly Levine, Joseph Levine, and Jean Delfino, all of Boston; Harry Magala of Easton, Pa., and Elizabeth Martin of Pottsville, Pa.

Reinstein, the slain racketeer, also was indicted. The indictments charge the defendants conspired to transport women and girls from New York and other cities and towns to Boston, and that the conspiracy continued until October of this year.

The penalty of reputation

So widely-known has KRAFT Cheese become that many people are apt to think that all packaged cheese is KRAFT. (This, of course, is not the case. KRAFT's universal popularity has brought with it a large number of imitators who, while unable to duplicate KRAFT quality, make their products resemble KRAFT as closely as possible in size, shape and general appearance. These substitutes, often inferior in quality, are occasionally sold by dealers eager to make the extra profit which most substitutes offer to stimulate sales. (Such short-sighted policy, however, usually works to his disadvantage in the long run. People refuse to pay the KRAFT price for a substitute which is never made according to KRAFT methods of cheese selection, pasteurization and blending, but is often made from skimmed milk. Such cheese obviously lacks the rich nourishment and high food-value of genuine KRAFT. It is the full rich creamy milk from which KRAFT Cheese is made, that makes it so good for you, as well as being so good to eat.

Take this simple precaution, and you won't be fooled! When buying either the 4-lb., 1-lb. or 3-lb. KRAFT cheese, do not be satisfied merely with asking for it by name, but also make sure that the words "KRAFT Cheese" are plainly on the tin-foil. Then you'll know you've bought the best!

SEALERS AGAIN ASK $450,000 COMPENSATION

Ex-sealers of Victoria, headed by W. A. Adams and representing 350 shareholders of the Victoria Sealing Company, conferred with Premier Mackenzie King at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon on the revival of their claims to be compensated in connection with the ending of the sealing industry on the Coast.

Copies of correspondence and a petition were presented to the Premier to back up the sealers' claims.

Mr. Adams explained that when they went out of the active sealing business it was on the understanding that they were to be compensated to the extent of $450,000. That was back in 1911, and because in that year the company did not send out any ships after fur seals, their claims, as well as those of the men they employed, were not allowed. However, in that same year five independent schooners left Victoria and sealed during the season, with the result that four of them later divided $600,000. The fifth schooner, the Umbrina, was sunk and

"They work while you sleep"

Do you have days when you feel sluggish—when everything seems an effort—and you have no appetite? Take a candy Cascaret before you go to bed! This gentle, harmless aid to the bowels is often all that is needed to clear up a sick headache and cause any other symptom of sluggishness to vanish.

Cascarets can't harm you for cascara is a favored laxative with medical authorities. It does a perfect job of cleansing without violence, and without forming the laxative habit. Cascarets are pleasant to take, for they are sweetened with pure cane sugar and flavored with real licorice—children love them.

A candy Cascaret or two will usually clear up a bilious, constipated condition between night and morning. Their action is so gentle there is no discomfort from them or danger in their frequent use. They are a pure vegetable product. They do not weaken the system. In fact, the cascara actually strengthens bowel muscles. Remember this when you have a coated tongue, bad breath, when the head feels dull or there is any sign of poor elimination.

Births, Marriages, Deaths

BORN
HOWE—To Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rowe, 424 Hillside Avenue, a daughter (Christina), on November 14.

DIED
NEILD—On Wednesday, Nov. 13, at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Henry Halwood Neild, age 62 years, born in Bolton, Lancashire, England, and resident of Esquimalt for the past twenty years, late resident of 408 Fraser Street. There survive his widow at the family residence, 408 Fraser Street, and his daughter, Mrs. E. E. Harvey, of this city.

The funeral will take place on Saturday, Nov. 16, at 2:30 o'clock, from the Sands Funeral Chapel, and the remains will be laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park (C/o flowers, by request).

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. O. K. Gillespie and Miss L. Marshall wish to thank their many friends for kind words of sympathy and beautiful floral tributes received during their recent bereavement.

HONOR MEMORY OF BENEFACTORS

His Honor Unveils Portraits To-day at Jubilee Hospital

Tribute to the memory of two noted benefactors of the Provincial Jubilee Hospital was paid by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor at an impressive little ceremony this afternoon, held in the blue room of the institution. The occasion was the unveiling of portraits of the late Joseph Blackbourne Greaves, who died on June 13, 1915, and left $200,000 to the hospital, and the late David Dohg, who died here in June of this year, leaving a bequest of $265,000 to the hospital. The Lieutenant-Governor, who was accompanied by Miss Helen Mackenzie, made eulogistic reference to the generous benefactors, whose bequests would materially assist the hospital in the subject of hospital administration in the Province, and the cost of maintaining these institutions.

George McGregor, chairman, and other members of the hospital board were in attendance.

Island Pioneer Died Yesterday

The death took place last evening of John Hepburn, aged eighty years, a resident of Vancouver Island for fifty-five years, and for many years a resident of Salt Spring Island. There survive him his widow; two sons, Robert and Arthur of Salt Spring Island; two daughters, Mrs. P. J. Horne of Salt Spring Island, and Mrs. Thomas Wellburn of this city; also four brothers and four sisters. The remains are resting at the Sands Funeral Chapel, and will be forwarded to-morrow morning to Fulford Harbor, where services will be conducted in St. Mary's Church at 2 o'clock. The remains will be laid to rest in the church cemetery.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A general meeting of the Victoria Seating Club is called for on Thursday, November 21 at 5 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce Committee Rooms. All members are requested to attend.

Thanks of Oak Bay municipality for the assistance rendered by the Victoria police force during the arena fire were expressed in a letter from the Mayor to the meeting of the board of police commissioners this morning.

Operation of the Saanich schools cost $15,187.71 in October, the school board was last night informed. Accounts ratified for payment included $10,178 for salaries to teachers, janitors and transportation of pupils.

The monthly meeting of the Prayer Union for the salvation of Israel will be held to-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Y.W.C.A., Blanshard Street. The speaker will be T. H. Maynard and short extracts will be read from Jewish mission papers.

Found guilty on a charge of assaulting Louise Poy, Chinese, John Potts was fined $10 in City Police Court this morning. Potts charged that the accused had slapped his face after an altercation following a near accident between automobiles driven by the two.

"The Picturesque Orient" will form the subject of a travelogue to be given by Rev. H. F. Lattrell at the George Presbyterian Church, Tillicum Road, to-morrow evening. The address will be followed by a concert by the St. Andrew's choir under the leadership of Jesse Longfield.

Fines of $10 were imposed in Provincial Police Court yesterday afternoon on two minors who were found guilty of hunting without the supervision of an adult. One of them was also charged with killing a turkey, for which he was fined $25 and the cost of the bird, $8, when he pleaded guilty.

Miss Olive Campbell and Mrs. Marion C. McGovern were appointed as teachers of piano for the City School Board last night on a test plan of class instruction at the Quadra and Sir James Douglas Schools. The classes will be carried on without expense to the board, which is to provide accommodation only, it was stated.

Selection of officers for 1930 will come before the annual meeting of the Victoria branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada on December 4. At a meeting of the branch last night in the Brown Building, the choice of these officers was considered. A report on the annual meeting of the institute in Montreal was given by R. F. Day.

Use of the Saanich schools for Sunday school purposes will be permitted by the Saanich School Board, on payment of $1 for each occasion. The concession will be withdrawn from the applicants against whom a complaint of damage is made. The ruling was made by the board last night after cancellation of an earlier minute which had denied use of schools for Sunday school purposes.

Capt. Thain, M.C., last night gave an address on "Empire Trade" at a meeting of the right wing of the McBride Conservative Club in Amphion Hall. During the meeting, over which the new president, Capt. Hugh Allan, presided, Harry Penman was elected treasurer and Capt. Tapley auditor. Reginald Hayward, M.P., also spoke during the evening. The gathering played cards at the close.

An action by the Empire Realty Company against F. B. Pemberton & Son, over commission paid for the sale of the Malvern Block, Government Street, to the General Warehouse Limited, opened before Judge Lampman in County Court to-day. The claim is for any sums due as a result of the deal in which there had been extended preliminary negotiations. Alexis Martin appears for the plaintiff and F. G. Fowkes for the defendant. The hearing is proceeding with the taking of evidence.

POWER LINES RESTORED IN EIGHT HOURS

Arena Fire Damage to Electric Distribution System Permanently Remedied

Within eight hours of the outbreak of the arena fire the British Columbia Electric Railway Company had temporarily restored electric light and power service to districts interrupted when the main power lines were destroyed. The service was restored by noon on Sunday by stringing of temporary lines, termed "haywire" by the men, but to-day all the emergency equipment has been replaced with new construction of the usual type. Charred and brittle poles are being taken out as fast as new poles can be erected.

Scores of insulators, located at considerable distances from the arena, were found cracked by the company's inspectors and have been replaced. A large number of transformers are believed to have been wrecked, and have been replaced with new equipment. Tests of the valuable equipment taken down are now being conducted to ascertain the extent of the damage.

While the service to the Royal Jubilee Hospital was interrupted for some hours, officers of the company are receiving congratulations on the recent reorganization of the city's trunk power lines, attained a few days before the arena fire. This transferred Joseph's Hospital to another circuit. Previous to the opening of the new Bay Street substation both hospitals had been served by the same main trunk power lines.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Arrangements are well advanced for a cabaret dance to be given at Amphion Hall, December 6, under the auspices of the local Anti-vivisection Society. The dance music will be provided by one of the city's most popular orchestras. Candy sellers will be on the scene and refreshments will be served during the evening. Many friends are already reserving tables for the evening and early reservations are advised by the committee in charge. Tickets may now be had from members of the society and at various stores.

From Vancouver—H. B. Olsen and R. Lynch.

SAY CIVIC AUDITORIUM NEEDED HERE

Victoria Musical Festival Association Draw Attention to Lack of Convention Centre

Say Destruction of Arena Lends Urgency to Matter

The need of an auditorium in Victoria to provide accommodation for large gatherings, such as the Victoria Musical Festival and other rallies, will be taken up with the city shortly by officers of the Victoria Musical Festival Association. It was learned to-day.

The association at a recent meeting decided to draw the attention of the City Council to what is considered a pressing need for a civic auditorium capable of handling large crowds. The recent total destruction of the Willow Arena has emphasized this need, and the matter is now to be pressed, it is understood.

The inability of existing assembly halls and meeting places to hold the large crowd attracted by the recent sessions of the musical festival was referred to at the meeting, when the decision was taken to approach the City Council on the matter. A letter covering the suggestions of the association will be laid before the next meeting of the council.

ICE CARNIVAL SUCCESS TOLD ROTARY CLUB

Annual Club Undertaking Shows Good Profit, Members Hear

Loss of Costumes and Accessories in Fire Bring Down Net Gain

A general club programme was held by members of the Rotary Club at the luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

P. B. Scourrah made a brief report on the successful ice carnival staged by the club at the arena last Saturday night. It was with mixed feelings that he spoke of the carnival owing to the destruction of the arena the next morning, he said.

While there had been a full house at the carnival and the club had cleared something like $1,600, the fact that not so large a crowd had been attracted to the club had to make compensation for the loss of costumes, chairs and other borrowed articles in the fire, he estimated.

T. P. McConnell also made a short report on the carnival, discussing it from a financial standpoint. The show itself was a distinct success, living up to advance notices, he said.

The total estimated receipts were $4,375. Mr. McConnell said. Donations and programme receipts were in addition.

Expenses amounted to $3,140. The exact liability incurred through the fire had not yet been determined, he said.

Commendation of the work of Mr. Scourrah, the carnival chairman, J. H. Miller and his band, Victor Clarke, J. H. Fletcher, Frank Doherty, Frank M. Shandley, Percy Watson, Jack McKay, G. Denham, W. Brown, R. O. Lamb, Stewart Williams, R. Brencley, Walter Tait and Peter Schmelk in connection with the carnival, was made by Mr. McConnell.

A classification talk on "Government and Service" was given by John Craig, one of the club members, who described the powers and duties of the working of the audit department.

"DEAF MUTE" TO SERVE JAIL TERM

Joseph Dodds Faces Two Month's Imprisonment For Begging

Joseph Dodds, who pleaded guilty in City Police Court yesterday to a charge of vagrancy by begging, was sentenced this morning to serve two months' imprisonment with hard labor.

City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison declared the accused had not been frank with the police department in the way of giving information about himself, nor did he act like a person who was repentful of his act. He was not deserving of any sympathy, the prosecutor added.

Dodds posed as a deaf and dumb person in securing charitable donations.

Passing sentence Magistrate George Jay said accused was not only guilty of the offence with which he was charged but also with obtaining money by false pretences by posing as one whom he was not. Dodds was charged in Oak Bay court with a similar offence and received a sentence of two months, to run concurrently with the first term.

MINIMUM WAGE BOARD OPENS SITTINGS HERE

Taxi Drivers, Stationary Engineers and Warehouse Men Appearing

J. D. McNiven Says Evidence From All Interested Persons Desired

Investigation into the working conditions and wages of British Columbia stationary engineers, taxi drivers and warehouse men opened before the Male Minimum Wage Board in the Parliament Buildings this morning. As representatives of these workers could not attend until this afternoon the board adjourned without hearing any evidence. It will be in session this afternoon and to-night at 7:30 o'clock in the Members' Room of the Parliament Buildings.

J. D. McNiven, chairman of the board, who presided, explained that he and his colleagues desired evidence from all persons interested in the wages of the three groups under consideration. While applications for legal minimum wages had come from taxi drivers, fourth class stationary engineers and warehouse men, the board would hear the views of all men in similar occupations who desired to address it.

The board will be in session here again to-morrow to hear all persons interested in its work. The itinerary of its Province-wide tour is as follows:

Nanaimo—November 16.

Vancouver—November 18, 19 and 20.

Prince Rupert—November 23.

Princeton—November 25.

Kamloops—November 30.

Vernon—December 2.

Kelowna—December 3.

Penticton—December 5.

Nelson—December 7.

Cranbrook—December 9.

New Westminster—December 12.

PHONE LINK RESTORED BY SWIFT WORK

Service Resumed For 1,200 Telephones Cut Off By Arena Fire

Damage to telephone services, caused by the arena fire on Sunday morning, has been fully repaired, and 1,200 telephones temporarily out of commission are now permanently restored to service, officials of the British Columbia Telephone Company Limited, this morning stated.

Immediately after the interruption of the telephone service, occurred emergency calls were sent out to every lineman attached to the Victoria exchange, many men having to be summoned from Shawnigan and other upland points where they were spending the holiday.

Although the work of restoring the destroyed cable links and the telephone exchange without service was speedily restored to the district located by Cranmore Road northward to Uplands.

As the cost of the damage has not yet been ascertained, estimates place the repairs at more than $4,000.

BLIND HOME IS ASSURED

Success of Drive Means Central Building Will Be Erected in Vancouver

$30,000 Expected in Victoria Before Campaign Closes Saturday

Generous donations received within the last few days indicated that 30,000 will be raised in Victoria for the western division of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind before the drive closes Saturday night.

A cheque for $1,000 was received from the city of Victoria to-day. Sidney Rubber Roofing Company employees have contributed $100. J. O. Cameron's workers have helped with $117, and the subscription sheet circulated at the Parliament Buildings drew $1,500.

The building sought for the activities of the institution in British Columbia is assured by the success of the drive, Merrill C. Robinson, western superintendent, said to-day. Information is being secured from all parts of the world where similar buildings have been erected so that the best ideas may be incorporated.

The building where the blind factory where thirty-five workers are employed. It will contain a shop where wheelchair work is done by blind girls. There will be leather, basketry and beadwork shops. In addition there will be a library, recreation room and accommodation for transient visitors, administration building and accommodation for tuition room for blind workers.

Large volumes of smoke arising from the Victoria West district this morning led many citizens to the belief that a serious fire had broken out in the neighborhood, but investigation revealed that the burning of rubbish was responsible for the alarm.

Rotarians Meet "Wee" Georgie Wood

"Wee" Georgie Wood, who is appearing with Philip Rodway's pantomime company here this week, was a guest of the Rotary Club at luncheon to-day.

Mr. Wood, who was himself a member of the Manchester Rotary Club for six years, was introduced by Clifford Denham.

He humorously described his own adventures in Rotary, telling how he had finally resigned owing to his inability to attend meetings of his own club.

ALL ESQUIMALT STEPS TO-NIGHT

All Esquimalt will step out to-night, the occasion being the municipal community dance, to be staged at the Esquimalt Board of Trade.

Arrangements for the function are completed to-day by A. T. Waite, secretary of the Board of Trade, and a novelty affair, with balloon, boat and other special features, for which prizes will be awarded. The judges of the various kinds of dancing will be announced during the evening by Mr. Waite.

OBITUARY

Edwin R. Stephen, a native son of Victoria but a resident of Vancouver for the last six years, passed away suddenly while riding in a street car in the Mainland city last Saturday. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning in Vancouver. He was a son of the late Mr. David Stephen and Mrs. Stephen, and was educated in the Boys' Central School and the Victoria High School, and for many years was in charge of the Great Northern railway offices here. He is survived by a brother, William, living in Los Angeles, and three sisters, Mrs. Jessie N. Spring and Miss May Stephen, living in Portland and Mrs. R. G. Jackson of Philadelphia.

There passed away on Wednesday, at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Henry Halewood Nield, of 408 Fraser Street. The late Mr. Nield was born in Bolton, Lancashire, in 1862, and had been a resident of this Province for the last thirty-five years. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. F. O. Lucombe and Mrs. R. Harvey, both of this city. The funeral will be held Saturday at 2:30 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park. No flowers, by request.

The funeral of Baby Nishimoto, who passed away last Monday, took place yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Relatives and a large gathering of friends were in attendance, and the little casket was covered with a profusion of beautiful flowers. The remains were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Funeral services will be held at the B.C. Funeral Chapel to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for the late John James Young, who passed away peacefully at the Jubilee Hospital on Tuesday, at the age of fifty-three. Born in Carson City, Nevada, he had been a resident of this city for the last forty-five years. He was the eldest son of the late John C. Young, and a highly respected business man. For thirty-five years he was in the shoe business and proprietor for twenty years of the Island Shoe Store, 606 Johnson Street. He will be sadly missed among a wide circle of friends. The late Mr. Young leaves to mourn his loss his widow, two daughters, Mrs. W. W. Mitchell of

More Santa Claus Letters

The Victoria Times offers a prize of $25 for the best letter of not more than 150 words telling just why you know there is a Santa Claus. For the letter which is judged second to the best there is an award of $15; the third prize is $10 and the fourth $5. For the next five letters to receive honorable mention The Times will give $1.

There is only one condition attached to the contest. You must be less than twelve years old. All letters must be received at the office of The Times not later than midnight of Wednesday, November 23. Announcements of the winners will be made the following Monday, November 25. Now is the time to get busy. There certainly is a Santa Claus and all the world knows that he lives right on top of the world, way up at the North Pole.

Of course, there are some little boys and girls who don't think there is a Santa, but that is just all they know about it. You can prove it to them now that you know there is one and he will come to see you at Christmas and with the money from your letter you can buy lots of presents and candy. Address your letter to the Santa Claus Editor, The Victoria Daily Times, and be sure you mail it in plenty of time. Then watch The Times for your name among the winners.

Dear Sir:
The reason I believe in Santa Claus is because my mammy and daddy once took me to a concert. After the concert Santa came down the chimney and his face was all over soot, and he had on his back a bag full of toys. After he gave out the toys he climbed away up the chimney again and he whistled and I heard the reindeer footsteps on the roof. That is why I believe in my dear old Santa Claus.

PEEKING THROUGH THE WINDOW
Dear Editor:

Why I know there is a Santa Claus is because we spent one Christmas with our friends. We were having lots of fun, when I heard a tap on the window. I saw Santa Claus peeping in at us. I ran to the door to let him in and he had a lot of presents for all of us. He had some lovely soft snow-balls and he started throwing them at us. We had a jolly time with him. And I have seen him every year. So that's why I know there is a dear old Santa Claus.

Dear Editor:

Why I believe in Santa Claus is because he has never failed in bringing me toys and candies every Christmas. He does not waste his things in bad girls or boys that do not believe in Santa Claus or those who would not believe that this will prove to the girls or boys that do not believe in him and that they will ever after.

THE DEAREST OLD MAN

135 Dixon St.
Nanaimo, B.C.
Nov. 9, 1929.

Dear Editor:

I know there is a Santa Claus because I did not get Christmas presents. Another reason is if you leave the Christmas tree undecorated, who would decorate it? And who hangs the presents on the tree? Your father and mother do not do it because they are in bed. I love Santa Claus. Santa lives way up North Pole, he is the dearest old man. If you are awake on Christmas Eve you can hear him on the roof. He is an old man with white beard, he wears a suit of red trimmed with fur, on his feet he has big boots which go right up his leg. Some children write letters and put them in the fire to go up the chimney. I do that, but before it goes I let my mother read it. I am ten years old.

Yours lovingly,
Betty Brankston.

A DOUBTING THOMAS

Dear Editor:

I know there is a Santa Claus. It is the spirit of Xmas, but a man only acts as Santa Claus in Hudson's Bay and Spencer's. He is the spirit of joy and good-will. You can not see a spirit, so people act as him.

Yours truly,
Tom McKeachie.

IN SPENCER'S ELEVATOR

Dear Santa Claus:
I know there is a Santa because I saw him in the picture, and saw him climb up the ladder and go to Spencer's window and we went into Spencer's and saw him in the elevator and go to his house.

Dear Editor:

I know there is a Santa Claus because every Xmas eve I hang up my stockings and he brings me nearly everything I want. And when he comes my brother and sister hope they will get a stocking too. Mother always takes me down to see the parade and I like it very much. I try to keep awake as long as I can on Xmas eve but I soon fall asleep again. And when I wake up in the morning I find my presents waiting for me. Hoping that Santa Claus will soon arrive in Victoria.

Yours truly,
Hazel Jackson.

Dear Sir:

There is a Santa Claus I know because last Christmas, when mother and daddy went to bed, I was in the bedroom. While they were talking in the bedroom door opened and a head with a red cap on it peeped in. Then when he saw we were all asleep, he thought I was asleep, but I often hear girls saying there is no Santa Claus, so I stayed awake that night to see if it was true. But he tipped in and filled my brother's stocking first. Then he came around to me and filled my stocking. I know he did because I heard the jingle of the toys going in. Then he went up the chimney, I heard a white reindeer on the roof. That is why I believe in Santa. Leonard Lightfoot.

EVERYTHING SEEMS SO JOLLY

1035 Oliver St.

Dear Editor:

I am sure about Santa Claus because we always go and see him and tell him what we would like. Everything seems so jolly and everybody so kind at Christmas time and Santa seems to start all this kindness. I love to see the red pole at the street corners and I know that they give lots of poor people a happy Christmas. I love all the nice things we have at Christmas, plum pudding, turkey, mince pies, candies and crackers Santa Claus brings all these things because I have seen him with all his helpers and my Mummy always leaves hot cocoa and cake for him when he comes down the chimney on Christmas eve.

Dear Editor:

I am sure there is a Santa Claus because I have spoken to him and he kissed me and told me to wipe the tears from my mother and he is a good girl. We have told our baby sister about him and are taking her down to see him at the Stores.

He is such a jolly man and is always smiling and kind to everybody. I feel very sorry for him in his North Pole clothes because he is so hot sometimes. Christmas could never be the same without Santa, and as he has to set everything going, I can't understand how any little boy or girl can have any doubt about him. I have told you all my reasons for being sure about him.

STUCK IN A SNOWBANK

Nov. 6th 1929

Dear Sir:

Why I know there is a Santa because my brother went up to a neighbors and then said that Santa was stuck in a big snow bank my brother came back and told us and my Dad and brother went to help him out my mother phoned up Uncle Walt and he went too when he got there Santa had gone a little after Dad had gone a funny noise happened out side and a stick of candy like a walking stick was out on the door step. When Dad and my brother came back they had been to a programme in Palmer and had seen Santa and he had given my brother another walking stick of candy to give me for staying home. Dear Editor:

I believe in Santa because he comes every year to do house and bring me lots of things. He is a good old sport. I know from past experience. Every Christmas I know he comes just when the clock strikes twelve so I know I must be fast asleep or atleast pretend I am. I will not get anything and then in the morning when I haven't any then my mother and daddy will know I was a bad girl. I won't make them just feel bad but Santa and I too He'll almost cry I know for he can feel so down hearted. For he will not want to turn me down. For he likes me and I like him. It won't be fair to other boys and girls. Then when we get together remarking of our Christmas toys I'll feel so a shame.

CIVIL SERVANTS MEET PRESIDENT

Cyril Phelan of Ottawa Addresses Victoria Branch of Federation

At the call of W. E. Ditchburn, president of the Victoria Branch of the Civil Service Federation of Canada, about 200 local members of the various branches of the Dominion Service met Tuesday night in the nights of Columbus Hall, on Government Street, to greet Cyril Phelan of Ottawa, president of the Federation, and also secretary of the newly formed super-annuation board.

Mr. Phelan is utilizing his vacation in touring the west in the interest of the organization. He proved that he is well able to deal with all questions pertaining to the welfare of his fellow employees as he has been connected with the parent body in one official capacity or another for a great many years.

In Mr. Phelan's talk before the local branch he dealt with the super-annuation act, civil service councils and salary revision and his remarks were listened to with great interest by the gathering, as he was enabled to enlighten them on many points on which they were not familiar. After President Phelan's remarks he answered several questions.

Before closing the meeting a resolution was moved by Mr. Calderwood and seconded by Mr. Hyslop, thanking Mr. Phelan for his visit, and passed unanimously.

PLACE POPPIES ON VETERANS' GRAVES

Two hundred wreaths are sought by the Armistice Period Committee to complete the decorations of Veterans' graves. But thirty of the graves in the soldiers' plot at Ross Bay Cemetery have been marked with wreaths. The other 170 together with the graves at Royal Oak Burial Park and the Naval Cemetery at Esquimalt, are still unmarked.

The thirty wreaths collected from the Cenotaph were taken out to Ross Bay Cemetery on Tuesday by representatives of the Armistice Period Committee. They were received by Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, regent of the Municipal Chapter, L.O.M., and Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, regent of the Navy League

Worth Par—Always

AN INVESTMENT in an Imperial Life Assurance Policy is never worth less than par. The values of the policy are definitely guaranteed. Your insurance estate always amounts to at least what your policy states—there is never any depreciation in value, never any "falling" market, and this irrespective of whether the policy monies become payable this year, next year, or thirty or forty years in the future.

Those charged with the investment of the many millions of dollars held to ensure the carrying out of Imperial Life policies have adhered to the principle of eliminating as far as possible all elements of chance—of investing in secured obligations rather than in share holdings or "equities"—and of making the safety of the investment the first consideration.

That this principle has been carried out is indicated by the following table showing how Imperial Life assets are invested:

Bonds and Debentures	56%
First Mortgages on Real Estate	22%
Loans on Policies	16%
Preferred and Common Stocks	3%
Real Estate	2%
Cash and Bank Deposits	1%

It takes but a few minutes to create a definite and dependable estate by means of an Imperial Life Assurance Policy.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess in acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore. (Adv.)

Financial Post Calls For Investigation of Canada Mine Exchanges

Stocks Manipulated by Few Big Firms, Public Ruthlessly Exploited and Industry Materially Damaged, Is Charge.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—Is market manipulation of Canadian mining shares curbing the progress of a great industry as several outstanding men in the development and producing end of the business have declared. Are markets ruthlessly manipulated by short selling and do several concerns exert such power as virtually to control upward and downward trends of mining issues? Can public confidence in the mining industry survive in the face of exploitation of the public?

The Financial Post, Toronto, asks these questions in the first of a series of articles which are to be run in that paper and which have the avowed purpose of letting in the light on some weaknesses in Canadian mining finance today.

According to The Post, the inner story of Canadian mining involves some things that are not mining at all and have nothing to do with mining. Some of these are nothing short of a cynical exploitation of public confidence and a brutal plundering of the hard-won earnings of the people.

There has been, through the operation of certain agencies, a monstrous betrayal of the confidence of the Canadian people in what they believed to be their great heritage.

The Financial Post expresses the opinion there has been cunning and skillful manipulation of mining markets in such wholesale degree as to cast a cloud over all legitimate mining brokerage and to bring into disrepute the entire mining industry.

The Post does not believe that sinister practices have been confined to mining brokerage. It states that promotional and development effort in some instances has been marked by a total absence of sound ethics and fair dealing or by sinister bawling and dangerous enthusiasm.

The Financial Post declares that it is time for the Standard Stock & Mining Exchange to invite the fullest inquiry into its affairs and to reveal the attitude of all members as to the practice of short selling by members which has resulted in such damaging losses to the public. "This will be the first step on the road to the restoration of public confidence in the Standard Stock & Mining Exchange, a confidence all but lost through the alleged attitude of certain members. It will be more fitting and confidence-creating for this investigation to come from within the Standard Stock & Mining Exchange than from without," says The Post.

But investigation must come from without—if it must be forced.—The Financial Post believes that nothing short of a Royal Commission with powers to investigate beyond the limits of one province or one country will fit the demand of the present time.

Shirley

A jolly evening was spent by the Shirley Women's Institute at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Arden, Sheringham, Lighthouse. Cards and dancing were the main features. Miss Gladys Clark won the prize for highest score for ladies, and Mrs. M. A. Clark received the consolation. Mrs. Brenner won the award for gentlemen and T. Cross received the consolation prize.

Proceeds of the evening went to the Maritime fund. Tickets were sold on a rug, donated by Mrs. M. A. Clark. Miss Beatrice Sullivan held the winning number drawn during the evening by Miss Winnie Arden.

Edwin Clark spent Thanksgiving week-end with his family here.

Mrs. Garland is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Anderson.

Miss Christine Clark, R.N., graduate of Vancouver General Hospital, has been appointed as a supervisor there.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Aspray and Connie were recent visitors here.

Miss Evelyn Clark was home for the week-end.

WILL REPORT ON FOUR-YEAR HIGH SCHOOL

City School Board Warned to Cease Use of Foreign Readers

Inspector G. H. Deane to Report on Four-year Plan

A report on the application of the four-year high school course system to Victoria Schools is being prepared and will be presented shortly to the City School Board. Municipal Inspector George H. Deane told city trustees last evening.

The provisions of the Department of Education of a four-year course, which some pupils may be able to complete in three years, are now being analyzed and the effect of a local application of the plan will be reported on soon, said Mr. Deane.

Action by the Council of Public Instruction to ban foreign supplementary readers came before the board in a letter from Dr. S. J. Willis, superintendent of provincial education, warning trustees against the laying in of books of any supplementary reader which might later be discarded.

Vancouver, caught unexpectedly by the initial ruling, reported a loss of $20,000 in unsalable stock, according to recent dispatches. Victoria, warned in time, escaped loss, it is reported.

EXPENDITURES HIGHER

Trustee J. L. Beckwith, chairman of the finance committee, reported school expenditures to date of $432,512, as against $429,840 last year for the same period. Estimated expenditures in city schools for the year are placed at $544,353.

Trustee W. C. Moresby, K.C., chairman of the building and grounds committee, told of visits to the Margaret Jenkins and Victoria West Schools, with changes noted there. At Margaret Jenkins School a stage is to be raised, land will be cleared and other work done, on a basis where part of the cost will be borne by the Pupil-Teacher Association. At Victoria West a dilapidated wall belonging to a former brewery will be removed. The assembly hall at Oaklands School was reported under all ordinary uses after a recent inspection.

Mimeograph machines were authorized for Victoria High School and for the Girls' Central School. A grant of $40 from the Quadra Pupil-Teacher Association towards library use was acknowledged.

High School locks are still giving trouble, and now the school janitor has been appointed custodian with control over the locks and lockers at the school.

The board accepted an invitation to be present at a concert to be given by the Victoria Ladies' Choir on November 15, at the High School, and then went into committee to consider staff matters.

Trustees Plan Early Budget For New Year

The requirements of the Saanich Schools for 1930, as viewed by the present school board, will be tabulated in budget form by the whole board, sitting as a special committee next Tuesday evening, for recommendation to the incoming board. The trustees last night agreed to inclusion in the budget of ordinary operating costs and also all extraordinary requirements involved in the proposed building programme.

The policy of early preparation of a tentative budget was first adopted by the 1929 School Board and trustees last night agreed that the excellent financial results of the current year have been in great part due to the early presentation of the year's budget to the council last spring, made possible by the new system.

ASSISTED PLANS OF IMMIGRATION CALLED MISTAKE

Lieut.-Col. Kincaid-Smith, British Traveler, States His Views in Vancouver

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—"Spoon fed" immigration from Britain to Canada is spoiling settlers and ruining Canada's opportunity to attract independent men who might come to this country at their own expense.

This is the view of assisted immigration schemes voiced by Lieut.-Col. Malcolm Kincaid-Smith, former British parliamentarian, soldier and world traveler. In the course of one of his frequent trips through Canada Col. Kincaid-Smith reached Vancouver yesterday.

Summing up his review of the immigration situation, during which he emphasized the fact that the constant sales in the press of Great Britain of the failure of so-called trained immigrants had virtually killed voluntary immigration, Col. Kincaid-Smith added:

"During the past ten years a stream of approximately 400,000 immigrants of the finest material in the world has flowed from Great Britain to the United States and Canada has made no effort to attract them to this country.

PAY OWN WAY. "They are all quite capable of paying their own way, neither wanting nor expecting government assistance. Probably amongst them were many who would have made excellent farmers."

"I am glad to find the Government, farmers and other organizations in Canada have at last set their faces against 'spoon fed' immigration. As a general policy it is doomed to failure. It is useless to bring people over here who do not really want to come and who have been looked after at home and expect the same in Canada."

Not only were the tales of failure of assisted immigrants cutting off voluntary settlers, continued Col. Kincaid-Smith, but they were hurting Canada's reputation in Britain and British prestige in Canada.

"This does not apply to boys and girls. They should be assisted in any numbers," added the British visitor.

MUST COMPETE

It was idle to ignore the fact, he continued, that Canada must compete with the United States for the cream of voluntary immigration from Britain. He believed the United States was getting the best of the movement. He commended railway and steamship companies for reductions in fares and believed further reductions would pay in the long run.

Col. Kincaid-Smith said he hoped changes would be made in the nature of the literature sent to Britain to attract settlers.

"Leaflets should show comparative wages in different trades in Canada and the United States," he said. "They should give comparative prices of land, commodities, produce, necessities and luxuries. They should prove Canada can offer just as bright opportunities as can the United States."

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—Wheat: With early firmness in Liverpool a moderate export business overnight, combined with a decided improvement in the New York stock market sentiment towards wheat was more friendly to-day and prices were higher throughout, and at one time were 2 cents over the previous close. Offerings in the local pit were much smaller to-day, while there was better commodity house support and some good buying early by seaboard houses and exporters.

Chicago was as firm as Winnipeg at one time, but eased off, and this pulled Winnipeg down from the high marks.

Both Canadian and American mills were reported as buying both cash wheat and the futures, but there was no confirmation. Floor demand was showing any improvement in the cash market the shippers were taking advantage of the various rail ship-out spreads unchanged to a fraction better on three northern lower grade wheat were not in the best demand, but offerings were not pressing.

There was some business done in the durum overnight. There are reports that rust is causing damage to Argentine wheat crop. We do not believe that Europe can hold off much longer for buying North American wheat in United States Government tiding over the farmers, and Canadian wheat market from the farms, do not think prices will go much lower than they have been, although it is difficult to judge what a liquidating market will do.

Coarse grains: These markets were firmer move of day, but oats had difficulty in holding the upturn when there was considerable pressure from liquidation there was a good business again done in oats, mostly rail ship-out to eastern Canada. There was practically nothing done in barley or rye.

Flax: This market closed higher, but trade was only small and with little feature.

Nov. 14.—The significant feature to-day was a more confident tone displayed. The rally in stocks helped materially in lifting prices moderately and the early cables also helped the bulls. It is the general belief that a large part of the recent decline in wheat, which carried prices down to below the loan level based on the fact that the board was due to the weakness in stocks.

In the cash market receipts were small here and with an excellent milling demand, sales being 150,000 bushels making about 500,000 bushels in past three days, also fair business in durum, hard winter and Manitoba wheat was indicated but not much as yet.

When sales reached a liberal volume.

Foreign port stocks are large, but the fact that on passage stocks are 20,000,000 bushels less than a year ago offsets this to a great extent.

As a matter of fact, weekly world's shipments are much under normal import requirements, prices for wheat in Europe are said to be now about on a parity with imported wheat, which indicates that the handicap of burdensome native offerings has been largely overcome. However, while receipts from Argentina that the acreage estimates in Argentina will probably be revised downward to indicate a loss of about twenty per cent.

The Canadian estimate of the western crop was not much changed from preliminary figures and the total world wheat crop shortage compared to last year will be fully as large as expected early in the season.

The technical position of the wheat market would appear to be reasonably sound, and think from now that export clearances will be fairly steady, while receipts continue small, giving the buyer on the set-backs a material advantage.

Corn—The possibility of increased movement still acts as a bar to speculative buying, but on the dips there was fair commission house support. Shipping sales 200,000 bushels. Look for two-sided market in corn, but unless receipts increase materially, believe we have seen low points for a time.

Oats—Cash sales was steady to half up sales 100,000 bushels on set-backs favor buying side.

Rye—While general news does not afford much basis for any bullish view on rye, the open interest in December shows little change, which suggests that the principal holdings are still intact.

Mayland, Nov. 14.—(Solloway, Mills Service)—Removal of all creates a very favorable change in the Mayland aspect for the immediate future. The fishing job in this well had all the earmarks of a long-drawn-out job, judging from Associated experienced men, and the clearing of the hole now makes it possible to resume drilling almost at once. It is likely that the well will be drilling to 500 or 500 feet, where the producing horizon is expected. Some cleaning out may be necessary before new hole is made, but it ought not to take long.

Stock Crash Is Cause of Man's Arrest

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—Clarence Holliman, trustee employee of MacKay, Hents & Company, stock brokers here, was arrested to-day, charged with embezzling about $200,000, said to have been lost in the stock market slump.

The market has turned out on this recession and stock is not being shaken out. This is taken to mean that the local market is now on a sound footing, and that if New York and Toronto would give it a chance, it could easily do better. It is strictly a buyer's market, and the buyer is in the advantage and can buy practically at his own price. There are undoubtedly many stocks here that are worth more than is being asked for them, and it is a matter of time only before money comes up and stocks again to reflect the improved conditions.

CHAPTER XI

Again that blaze of anger in Cora Barker's eyes. "It's none of your business," she choked. Then her shoulders sagged. "I'm sorry, I suppose everything connected with Mrs. Hogarth is your business now," she conceded wearily. "Mrs. Hogarth made a new will just after Christmas, cutting Daisy Shepherd off, and naming me, for better reason than that I had given her, as a Christmas gift, a rather nicely bound diary. I—had no ulterior motive. I was not trying to cut Daisy out. But Daisy didn't give Mrs. Hogarth a present, said something about being tired of pampering the old lady. So I was Mrs. Hogarth's heirless until—some time in May, I believe it was, when she became very fond of Walter Styles, a new boarder. She was tired of me by that time, and wanted the fun of having a new heir. She didn't have much excitement in her life, and making wills was her chief indoor sport. I didn't mean that to sound ugly. I liked Mrs. Hogarth, even after—"

"After you quarreled with her?" Strawn suggested, as Cora's words stopped on a gasp.

"The yellow pallor deepened. 'I—did not have a quarrel with Mrs. Hogarth. She brought out the words with difficulty.'

Strawn smiled, and Dundee could have struck his chief. He was very young and very sympathetic.

"But you had come to regard Mrs. Hogarth's hidden heart as rightfully yours, hadn't you, Miss Barker? You rather heated, didn't you, when she changed her will?"

"No! No! I never expected to get it. We all knew how much she enjoyed changing her will. And I didn't need her money. I made a good salary as pianist at the Little Queen, and I also have a number of private pupils to whom I give lessons in the mornings, before the theatre opens at 11. I make plenty to live on decently—"

"I congratulate you, Miss Barker," Strawn interrupted blandly. "Just one other thing, Miss Barker, before I send you to bed, for a good night's sleep. I hope—"

"Cap'n, the parrot, is used to your presence in this room, of course. Do you think you could coax him into a talkative mood?"

"At the apparently innocent request Cora Barker shrank from her inquisitor as sharply as if he had struck her. She trembled all over."

"No, no! I'm afraid of the parrot. Cap'n has always hated me—never would talk for me—"

When the completely demoralized woman had been dismissed, Strawn stretched his arms high above his head, yawned, then coughed a quizzical eye toward Dundee behind the screen.

"Well, well," he commented, "and what do you think of Miss Cora Barker, young sleuth, me lad?"

"I think," Dundee said slowly, "that she has not told all she knows, that she believes Serier killed Mrs. Hogarth, and is in terror of her life that she will be wrongfully involved—"

"Wrongfully?" Strawn snorted. "I'll bet my badge she was in on it—somehow!" He rose and strode to the door. "Payne!" he bawled, and the plain-clothesman came on the run. "What about the Barker woman's room. Find anything?"

"Not a thing, chief," Payne answered regretfully. "But listen, sir, the Sharps are champing at the bit. It seems that the Sharp dame was packing to catch a train when this rumour was kicked up. She missed it, but wants to take the next one. Some—"

"If I could get hold of a shot-gun I'd go duck hunting—"

"WHAT A DUCK HUNTER I AM!—"

"TH' MAJOR WOULDN'T LET ME TAKE HIS GUN BECAUSE HE'S JEALOUS!—"

"I WENT HUNTING WITH HIM AN' HE COULDN'T HIT TH' GRAF ZEP IN TH' HANGAR WITH A HANDFUL OF RICE!—"

"THAT ISN'T WHAT HE TOLD US!—"

"HE SAID HE GOT A DOZEN QUAIL—"

"AN' ALL YOU BROUGHT DOWN WERE SOME HOBBOES OUT OF A HAY-LOFT, WHILE YOU WERE BANGING AWAY AT A WEATHER-VANE ON TH' BARN!—"

"THERE ISN'T ANY HUNTING AROUND THESE PARTS JAKE!—"

"WHY DON'T YOU TIE A SET OF ANTLETS ON YOUR HEAD AN' GIVE TH' BOYS A THRILL, MISTAKING YOU FOR A MOOSE!—" door. While I was counting the money out of my purse to pay for the telegram I heard Mrs. Hogarth call. 'Who is it?' Norma said. 'It's Norma, Mrs. Hogarth,' and in a minute Mrs. Hogarth opened the door. When she saw that Walter was with Norma, she seemed to get awful mad. She raised one of the two canes she always used to walk with—because she was so terribly fat and heavy, you know—"

"Did you see her strike Walter Styles?" Strawn interrupted.

"Oh, no!" Mrs. Sharp protested. "She just brandished the cane as if she was going to hit him, and she said something like 'I've told you to stay away from me, Walter Styles, and I mean it! Now git!'"

"And what did Styles say?"

"Oh, he didn't say anything; he just backed away and tried to pull Norma with him, but she whispered something, and passed on into Mrs. Hogarth's room. I didn't pay any more attention then, because I wanted to see what was in the telegram."

"Did you see where Styles went?"

"Oh, down the hall toward his room, but as I said, I didn't pay much attention. Mr. Sharp was anxious to see the telegram, too, so I closed our door, and we read it—"

"She began to sob again."

"Suppose you take up the story at this point, Sharp," Strawn directed.

"The wife and I talked things over for a while. We were pretty badly shocked, you know, and I scarcely knew what to do, but Dolly insisted she was going to him this very night and made me go down to phone about trains and to see if she could get a berth on the 1 o'clock train, which would get her into the capital at about 7 in the morning. It took me about 10 minutes, I think, to get the information I wanted and to reserve the berth—I could only get her upper; it's the Chicago train, you know, and pretty crowded. Coming back up the stairs I saw Norma—Miss Paige—closing Mrs. Hogarth's door. With one hand she was dabbing a handkerchief against her eyes, as if she had been crying—"

"What time was this?" Strawn interrupted sharply.

"Behind the screen Dundee's pencil faltered in a trembling hand."

"Why, it must have been about half-past 11 by that time, sir," Sharp answered, hesitatingly. "I hope I haven't—"

"Never mind that!" Strawn commanded brusquely. "This is murder, Mr. Sharp."

"The pompous man's florid cheeks blanched; then he remembered something that brightened his eyes. 'But it couldn't have been Norma who—' He hesitated before the terrible word. 'I heard her call out, 'Good night, Mrs. Hogarth,' and then Mrs. Hogarth's voice answered, 'Good night!'"

Strawn's narrowed eyes glanced at the still ruffled parrot. "Are you sure, Mr. Sharp?" he asked slowly, portentously, "that it was Mrs. Hogarth's voice that answered 'Good night'?"

Strawberry Vale

On Thanksgiving Day a united Armistice service of the Anglican and United churches was held in Wilkins Road United Church, with a large congregation. After observing the two-minute silence Rev. H. A. Ireland conducted the service and Rev. F. Conley, rector of St. Columba and St. Michael's churches, gave an address. W. R. Woods sang "The Bethlehem Army." A collection in aid of the Institute for the Blind netted over $30.

Miss Sylvia Whymann of Nanaimo was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Stapleton, Marigold Road, for the holiday.

F. Fisher of Vancouver spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Fisher, Wellington Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Comley of Ladysmith, accompanied by Mrs. H. Newby and daughter, Eileen, were the guests of Mrs. Etheridge for the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Walker and baby Louise, of New Westminster, returned on Monday night after spending the holiday as guests of Rev. H. A. and Mrs. Ireland.

FRENCH AVIATOR KILLED

Paris, Nov. 14.—Maurice Wélas, noted French aviator, crashed in his plane at St. Cloud yesterday and was killed.

"Hello Mr Stubbail!" called Uncle Wiggily

"Hello yourself!" answered the jolly bear gentleman. "Who is with you?"

"No one," answered the rabbit.

"I heard you talking to some one, I am sure, just as I shuffled up," growled the bear. He didn't growl because he was cross, but because that was the way of talking. "I heard you speaking to some one!"

"Oh, I was talking to the jumping jack toy I brought with me. He and I are going to have a jumping race to see who does the better."

"I'll watch you," offered Mr. Stubbail, sitting down on a log.

So Uncle Wiggily jumped from here to there and a little farther than that, but the jumping jack toy was so fast and down between two sticks, whooping and clapping his hands to a twisted cord, so the rabbit easily won the race.

"Now, how would you like to come with me and have a sliding race?" asked Mr. Stubbail, smiling all over his big, fat, furry face.

"A sliding race?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Why, a sliding race is fine in winter, but we haven't exactly winter here, yet. There is no snow or ice that I have seen."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Bear's Slide

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By HOWARD E. GARIS)

"Where are you going to-day, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fussy Wuzzey, as she let a clothes-pin sit astraddle on the line. For the clothes-pin always wanted to join a circus and walk the tight rope, and this was a good way to begin to learn how.

"Oh, I am going adventuring, as I always do," spoke the rabbit gentleman in answer.

"Are you going to the woods?" asked the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"That seems to be the best place to find adventures," Mr. Longears made reply. "Though I may stop in the six and seven cent store."

"To buy an adventure?" asked Nurse Jane with a laugh.

"No, to buy a jumping jack," chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "I'll take the jack out in the woods and see whether it is the best jumper, or I, and in that way we may have an adventure."

"How funny you are!" squeaked Nurse Jane, but she couldn't help laughing, and as she had a clothes-pin in her mouth just then, she nearly swallowed it—"

Then Uncle Wiggily hopped to the eleven and twelve cent store, as they have better jumping jacks than the five and ten, and he bought a large red one and took it out to the woods with him.

"Now," said Uncle Wiggily to the toy, who had a painted, smiling face, very comical, "we'll see who is the better jumper."

But before he could start there was a rustling in the leaves and Mr. Longears was going to hop away, thinking the Bob Cat had gotten out of jail, where he had been set for wearing the Police Dog's uniform and trying to play a trick on Mr. Longears.

But the rustling in the dried leaves was made, not by the Bob Cat, but by a big, black bear. However, Uncle Wiggily wasn't at all afraid of the big, black bear, for it was kind Mr. Stubbail, father of Neddie and Beckie, two animal children who were very fond of Uncle Wiggily.

"Hello, Mr. Stubbail!" called Uncle Wiggily.

"Hello yourself!" answered the jolly bear gentleman. "Who is with you?"

"No one," answered the rabbit.

"I heard you talking to some one, I am sure, just as I shuffled up," growled the bear. He didn't growl because he was cross, but because that was the way of talking. "I heard you speaking to some one!"

"Oh, I was talking to the jumping jack toy I brought with me. He and I are going to have a jumping race to see who does the better."

"I'll watch you," offered Mr. Stubbail, sitting down on a log.

So Uncle Wiggily jumped from here to there and a little farther than that, but the jumping jack toy was so fast and down between two sticks, whooping and clapping his hands to a twisted cord, so the rabbit easily won the race.

"Now, how would you like to come with me and have a sliding race?" asked Mr. Stubbail, smiling all over his big, fat, furry face.

"A sliding race?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Why, a sliding race is fine in winter, but we haven't exactly winter here, yet. There is no snow or ice that I have seen."

"True enough," agreed the bear. "I don't need snow or ice for my slide. Come and I will show you what I mean."

Mr. Stubbail led Uncle Wiggily deeper into the woods until they reached the bank of a brook. The bank was steep and made of slippery red clay. When dry, the clay was more slippery than any dirt hill would be, and as it was dry now, Uncle Wiggily looked at it and said:

"You can't slide on that!"

"Oh, can't I?" cried Mr. Stubbail. "Just watch!" Then he rolled in the brook and got his fur all wet. Next he climbed up the dry clay hill and the water, dripping off the bear's fur, made that all wet. And wet clay is very slippery, as perhaps you know. So when his slide was well wet Mr. Stubbail sat down on it, gave himself a little push and down he slid as nicely as a rolling pin, and into the brook he plunged, getting wet all over. But he wanted to do this to make the clay slide even more slippery, and next time he came down whizzing.

"Now you try!" called the bear to Uncle Wiggily. So the rabbit slid down the bear's slide. But, not liking to get wet all over, Mr. Longears stopped himself before going plopping into the brook. Mr. Stubbail splashed in every time and he and Mr. Longears had lots of sliding fun, though the bear, being largest, won every race. So the rabbit found out how there could be a slide without winter.

And if the hand basin will let the dish rag wash its face in the bath tub, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the silent brook.

Why Every Mother-in-law Is Determined to Make Her Son's Wife Over; Keeping an Engaged Girl's Mind on Her Lessons; Bashful Young Man

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My husband and I are the bread winners of our family, the family consisting of my mother, my son and ourselves. Both of us work hard, and as my health is very delicate the burden of living sometimes seems almost too great to bear, but I am spurred on by my love for my husband and son, and all would be well except for my mother-in-law.

She does not take into consideration that I am a woman thirty years of age and tries to remodel me and complains continually because I do not rave and gush over her, and because I do not feel equal to going out to places of amusement in the evening when I come home exhausted from work, but also because she has the responsibility of taking care of my little boy and cannot go and come any minute she wants to. She may miss a bridge party now and then, but she never considers that I spend all of my days slaving at a desk, and that helping to support a person is just as much an expression of affection as calling them "dearling."

I am doing my best, but I certainly don't feel that I should be called to account because my disposition is quiet. Why can't mother-in-laws take us as we are anyway?

A BEWILDERED DAUGHTER-IN-LAW.

Answer—When you come right down to brass tacks, my dear, it is self-conceit that makes all of us think that our way is the best way, that our tastes are the standards to which others should conform, and that our criterion of conduct are the only ones beyond criticism.

That is why people try to make you give up your own religion and politics and espouse theirs. It is why people who have been reared on plain cooking think everybody who likes sophisticated dishes will bring dyspepsia upon themselves if they eat highly seasoned food. It is why people who like gaiety and to run around want to drag the stay-at-home away from their comfortable chairs and good books of an evening. It is why gushing people always call reserved people cold and reserved people think gushers are hypocrites.

This kind of conceit is one of the most pronounced characteristics of age. Practically all old people believe that they are fountains of wisdom and their point of view is infallible and that their opinions and the customs of their youth are sacrosanct. Father thinks John is going to the devil because he speeds around in an automobile, which father never did when he was a lad. Mother is sure that Mary is going to kill her baby with all these new-fangled theories about sterilizing things and not rocking babies to sleep because she didn't raise her children that way.

So there you are, and if your mother-in-law was your mother and you had to live with her, she would treat you just the same way and interfere with everything you did and think you should do just her way, because that is the way of an older woman with a younger one. The older woman never can understand that the younger one is grown up and has her own individuality, her own likes and dislikes and little ways, and that her happiness depends upon her being able to enjoy them without being nagged about them, and without either mother or mother-in-law trying to cut her over by her own pattern.

That is why girls leave home and why whenever two women have to live in the same house there is sure to be friction. Because not to save her life could either mother or mother-in-law keep her finger out of daughter or daughter-in-law's pie.

As for mother-in-law complaining about what she has to do, that is just because she wants to be jolled a little and made a fuss over. Many women use that method of calling attention to themselves and what they do for their families. Every day you hear mothers mourning over how they are tied down by their children, and telling how long they have stood over the cookstove getting a meal and how many stockings they have to darn and how much dirt the boys bring in, etc.

You would think they considered themselves perfect martyrs, but they don't. They don't begrudge one lick of work they do for their families, or one sacrifice they make for them. They are just trying to get a little appreciation. They just want to be told what wonderful cooks and housekeepers they are, and that they are the best mothers ever, and that their husbands and children love them for it and are grateful to them.

It's pathetic, isn't it, this begging for a little praise, like a hungry dog for a bone. And it is a little cruel and selfish that the families of these women won't take the time and trouble to throw them a few kind words that would cost nothing and make them happy and contented. Suppose you try that on your mother-in-law and see if it won't silence her complaints.

But I agree with you, poor, bewildered daughter-in-law, that the millennium will have arrived when those about us quit trying to make us over and let us live our own lives in peace in our own way.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young man of twenty-three engaged to a girl of seventeen. She has still a year of school to complete. We have planned not to get married for about two years. That will give the girl a chance to finish school and me the opportunity to get together a few dollars. However, the girl's mother is somewhat against the thing. She has no objection to me, but thinks we should wait until her daughter has finished school before being engaged, as she says the ring distracts the girl's mind from her work, but we do not believe that an engagement ring should be given back. We have all three decided to abide by your decision, so give it gobs of thought before you render the verdict.

FLAPANDUS.

Answer—I don't see how the ring, or even the fact of your being engaged, particularly affects the situation. It is the fact of your being in love that counts, and is likely to take the girl's mind off of her school books, because romance is very likely to fill a young maiden's mind to the exclusion of every other topic.

However, love works in a mysterious way its wonders to perform, and let us hope that in this case it will prove an inspiration that will make her put more punch and energy into her school work, as it often incites a man to make greater effort to succeed in business so that he may lay his triumphs at his sweetheart's feet.

So in this case, inasmuch as Cupid has already got in his deadly work and you are already engaged, I see no reason why the ring should be returned and the engagement called off. It seems to me that this would upset the girl's mind and take it away from her studies far more than letting matters stand as they are.

But stick to your resolution not to get married for two years. No girl of seventeen is fit mentally or physically to take upon herself the burdens and responsibilities of matrimony.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I like a certain young man, but I have never been introduced to him, but my parents know him well. When we are in a crowd he just stands and watches me all the time. Why does he do this? I would like to be more friendly with him, but how can I?

ROSE.

Answer—Probably he would like to know you better, but is shy and party and ask him.

DOROTHY DIX.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By SISTER MARY

Whatever kind of poultry may be selected for the Christmas dinner—turkey, duck, chicken, guinea fowl or goose—there is a special stuffing for each.

Turkey and chicken require a less highly flavored stuffing than duck or goose, and guinea fowl needs still another kind.

Bread stuffing is the foundation for any good fillings. The addition of celery, oysters, sausage, mushrooms, chestnuts and onions to the basic recipe change it as the cook desires. These stuffings, with the exception of onion, are suitable for any variety of fowl. Onion stuffing should not be used with turkey or chicken.

The highly flavored fruit stuffings are appropriate for duck, goose or guinea fowl.

In place of bread, potatoes or rice are often used to give body to the stuffing. This type of stuffing is particularly good with goose or duck.

The making of a good stuffing demands a taste for interesting combinations, a discriminating choice of seasonings, a careful blending of ingredients, and a limited proportion of liquid.

PLAIN BREAD STUFFING

One loaf bread twenty-four hours old, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup melted butter, 1 egg (optional), hot water or milk.

Crumb bread, discarding crust. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add melted butter, slowly tossing with a fork to mix it through the crumbs. Add egg well beaten and mix lightly with fork. Add not more than 1/2 cup boiling water and mix with fork. Make the dressing about as moist as wanted for serving. Mix well with fork to insure thorough blending.

For chestnut stuffing, reduce bread crumbs to one-half the amount and add one quart of shelled, blanched and bottled chestnuts. The nuts can be mashed or finely chopped.

For sausage stuffing, add 1/2 pound sausage meat removed from cases and bake to a crisp brown.

For celery stuffing, add one bunch of celery chopped fine.

For oyster stuffing, add one quart oysters, using oyster juice for liquid and one tablespoon minced parsley.

For mushroom stuffing, add one cup chopped and sautéed mushrooms, using butter for stuffing.

To-morrow's Horoscope

Benefic aspects dominate to-day, according to astrology, which reads the horoscope as most propitious to earth dwellers. The early hours should benefit farmers and all who draw their sustenance from the ground. Fortune should profit greatly. The planetary government is preeminently in favor of women and their public work which is to be important in the next few months.

Political honors will come to a few American women and many will attain places in the public service, it is forecast.

The seers declare that sex discrimination in the world of business will become less apparent each year and that 1930 will reveal progress for women wage-earners who command high salaries.

This is read as a fortunate day for shopping and especially for those who purchase artistic wares.

Theaters now come under a director's stars that seems to presage finer attainments for both stage and screen.

Color consciousness will now be strong among both men and women and will be expressed in dress and in all that pertains to the home.

Brilliant hues will be sought in architecture, it is foretold, and marbles of warm tones will be much prized.

The wear of simulation produced in color schemes will encourage the acceptance of many innovations, it is forecast.

Color will be prominent as an attraction in motion pictures, which will reveal tremendous strides in artistry, astrologers predict.

The stars which have encouraged fashion that revealed the physical involution of the spirit now will stimulate the exposure of the spiritual and mental part of humanity, it is prophesied.

Great art and literature are to be produced in the coming decade, if the stars are rightly read, for the "humans" will be toward loftier attainment than that achieved in the post-war period of materialism.

Persons whose birthdate is in the have the auspice of a year in which there is much happiness. Romance will contribute to the joy of both men and women.

Children born on this day probably will be strongly scientific in their trend. The subjects of this decade usually win success and make plenty of money.

Sir William Herschel, famous astronomer, was born on this day, 1753.

JACK OAKIE AS BASEBALL PLAYER IN CAPITOL FILM

"Fast Company," which opened today at the Capitol Theatre, has to do with a "bush league" ball player, Jack Oakie, who plays baseball so well that he is signed by the Yankees. He leaves his little old home town and is plunged into the fast company of city-bred girls and big league players. He becomes the tower of strength on the Yankees and they win the pennant. Then comes the world's series with Pittsburgh. With the deciding game to be played on the morning of the "rum runners" along the Atlantic coast who, by desperate methods, succeed in getting huge quantities of liquor into the United States from foreign ports, few people realize how widespread are the ramifications of that industry both afloat and ashore and how complete its systems of communication, secret service and espionage have become.

ACTIVITIES OF RUM RUNNERS ARE TOLD IN FILM "BLOCKADE"

Despite the widespread publicity that has been accorded the activities of the "rum runners" along the Atlantic coast who, by desperate methods, succeed in getting huge quantities of liquor into the United States from foreign ports, few people realize how widespread are the ramifications of that industry both afloat and ashore and how complete its systems of communication, secret service and espionage have become.

PLENTY OF ACTION IN DOUBLE BILL AT COLISEUM THEATRE

The Coliseum double bill this week, "Verdun" on the screen and "Be Yourself" by the Raymond Toby Letich Players on the stage is pleasing capacity audiences. There will be performances every evening for the remainder of the week, while on Saturday there will be three full shows. "Be Yourself" is a clever comedy, full of the usual Letich wit and humor. Miss Luene Webber, Miss Ruth Albright, and Miss Ester Todd, have good roles this week and all give splendid performances.

WATER SHED FOR SALMON SPAWNING

To the Editor:—It appears that it would be to the benefit of the commercial prospects of this district if you would spare some space in your valuable columns for this subject.

My special interest in this matter is due to the fact that my firm exports canned and frozen salmon to all the countries of the world importing this food, and we have found the owing to the failure of the dog salmon run that our foreign buyers are forced to place their orders in other countries for low-priced fish.

In connection with the fishery inspected in this district, and from my own observations, I find that the dog salmon, to a great extent, is unable to enter the Goldstream River owing to a lack of water over the estuary. Further, it is found that the fish that do enter the river are unable to get up to their spawning grounds owing to lack of water.

At the present moment thousands of fish that have been unable to spawn are dying.

It appears that water can be either piped or flumed from Langford Lake into the Goldstream, at reasonable lay-out, which operation will automatically drain some of the meadows close to Langford Lake, making this land of no value to the owner.

By the foregoing it is obvious that the province is losing considerable income from its natural resources in allowing these fish, who have come here with the very best intention of laying their golden eggs, and who have been prevented by lack of water, from this important function.

W. M. NOTHAM.

EDGED TOOLS

To the Editor:—In a council discussion regarding the erection of a grandstand at the Royal Athletic Park, a statement is made by Alderman Woodward that carpentry proves how dangerous a little knowledge is. He says, for instance, that "carpentry is any work with edged tools." This is not only totally incorrect, but of all the wood-working trades the carpenter uses the edged tools least. The cabinetmaker probably uses edged tools most of any craftsman—plane, chisel, gouge, router and so on almost indefinitely. Then comes the organ builder, running the former a close second, the piano builder, shipwright, joiner and carpenter. Any of the above craftsmen starting out to build the grandstand under discussion, or even a house or arena, would need only a saw, hammer, square and level; no edged tools whatever, unless possibly a hatchet. Surely Mr. Woodward would not call a housewife (who uses a hatchet to cut kindling) a carpenter.

The so-called facts are quite plain to see, and it is to be hoped the City Council will not be led astray. A month ago our union carpenters were far too busy to bother with rough carpentry working at $5.75 per day. Just now things are slackening up around the union banner and the organizer is looking around for some under dogs. The wage of a rough carpenter in Victoria runs from $4.50 to $5.50 per day, so the city is plainly paying a fair wage. The above dog-in-the-manger attitude is one of the reasons why decent craftsmen refuse to join a union. Live and let live, is the non-union craftsman's motto. No one ever heard of a non-union mechanic whining for preference at the expense of the other fellow.

Finally, it is to be hoped the city will not stop the work at the park. The law is entirely on their side, as the union organizer will soon find out. There is all kinds of work for carpenters around $7 a day and they can leave their edged tools at home or up the spout.

WALTER FOSTER.
Colquhoun, P.O., November 13, 1923.

FIVE-DAY WEEK

To the Editor:—It is quite amusing to read a letter in last night's issue signed Walter Foster, classing himself as the older set and strongly objecting to the shorter hours, stating that he would give six bits to see the five-day week man peeling spuds on a Saturday morning.

The majority of us younger set would give a hundred times six bits to see the older set putting in their six days a week and twelve hours a day by arising in the wee hours of the morning and trudging to work for two hours then trudging back for breakfast, then back again, till eventually they got the twelve hours in by bedtime. Yes, it would be worth taking a hundred times six bits to be in bed on a

Saturday morning and peep out the window and see the old boys coming home for breakfast after doing quarter of a day's work, like in days of old. They must look ahead themselves more than five days and remember that machinery is speedily putting more men out of work yearly. Let's say, for example, that we start next month, and every mill in town works twelve hours a day and six days a week for the next year. The result would be, at the end of the first month, a great reduction in the staff, as the older set men would be taking the place of two of the younger set men by doing a day and a half work in one day.

Now, we are purely white and want to live and let live and are willing to share our hours with the unemployed, which are many. The older boys must remember that they once used candles, then gas, which employed thousands to keep the street lights going and in order. Now, press the button and you have a thousand men's work done by one.

At the rate machinery is taking our place the six-hour day is very close at hand, as there are too many out of work now, and any go-ahead man can clearly see that the five-day-a-week is just another move ahead with the times and as machinery goes on taking our places the hours of labor will just have to drop shorter to keep everyone employed.

INTERNATIONAL BANK SCHEME NOW OUTLINED

Statutes Published at Baden, Germany, By Delegates of Nations

Baden, Germany, Nov. 14.—Purposes of the new Bank of International Settlements are described in the statutes of the bank, published to-day by the committee, which had just drawn them up, as follows:

"To promote co-operation of the central banks to provide additional facilities for international financial operations and to act as trustees or agents in regard to the international financial settlements entrusted to it."

So long as the Young reparations plan is operative the bank shall not only "observe provisions of the plan in administration of the operations of the bank, but also shall conduct its affairs with a view to facilitating execution of the plan."

GERMAN REPARATIONS

During operation of the Young plan the bank will be vested with the functions of receiving and distributing the German reparations and supervising and assisting in commercialization and mobilization of certain parts of the German annuities.

The statutes, charter and trust agreement of the bank were signed at 6.25 p.m. yesterday by national delegates who had been here for the last six weeks for the purpose of initiating the bank in accordance with provisions of the Young plan.

Only the Belgian delegates, Emile Francqui and M. Van Zeeland, did not sign, those two having retired to their capital a few days ago in a huff at selection of Basel rather than Brussels as the site of the institution.

CAPITAL ARRANGEMENT

Capital stock of the bank is fixed in Chapter Two of the statutes at 200,000,000 Swiss francs (about $66,666,666.67), divided into 200,000 shares, of which 112,000 must be subscribed before bank starts business.

The subscription of the total capital is guaranteed by the central banks of Great Britain, Belgium, France, Germany and Italy, and Messrs. "X," acting in place of the Bank of Japan, and Messrs. "Y" of New York.

HINDU, COW AND BOMB IN BLOW-UP

Hyderabad, India, Nov. 14.—A Hindu was in collision with a cow in a street here yesterday and the Hyderabad editors got a piece of news because the collision was followed by a tremendous explosion.

The Hindu, who was seriously injured, was taken to a hospital, where he told the mystified police he had been carrying a bomb in his pocket.

Though he did not give a reason for carrying it, police believe him to be an agitator.

Dispatches fail to tell what happened to the cow.
